Load Nerve Gas On Old Freighter For Final Trip

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Writer
SUNNY POINT, N.C. (AP) — Stevedores today begin loading 418 steel-jacketed vaults of nerve gas aboard an old Liberty ship which will become a tomb at the bottom of the sea for the deadly chemical.

Two heavily guarded trains rolled into this military port Tuesday night and early today after uneventful trips from Army arsenals at Anniston, Ala., and Richmond, Ky.

After the trains have been inspected, dock workers are to use 50-ton cranes to transfer the concrete-and-steel coffins to the Liberty ship, a relic of World War II brought out of mothballs for the assignment.

The loading is expected to take two or three days. Then the government plans to have Navy tugs tow the 442-foot vessel, the LeBrannon Russell Briggs, to a point in the Atlantic 232 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla. Valves and gas drains are to be opened to let in water so the Briggs will sink 16,000 feet to the bottom.

The scuttling is expected next Tuesday. But the tugs, accompanied by a destroyer escort and Coast Guard cutter, will not leave port until they have a 96-hour prediction of good weather. The Army and Navy want to accomplish the job before September, usually the most active month for hurricanes in the Atlantic.

Each of the concrete coffins, capped by a quarter-inch layer of metal, contains 30 M55 nerve gas rockets, a total of 12,540.

The gas is called GB, or "Sarin," and is capable of killing a person in minutes after attacking part of the central nervous system. It is in liquid form but would quickly turn to gas if it escaped.

In addition to the GB gas, sealed in one of the Anniston coffins is a 10½-pound container of VX nerve gas, the substance that is believed to have killed 6,100 sheep when tested at a Utah proving ground in 1968.

Army chemical experts and the National Academy of Sciences say the gas, manufactured during the Korean War, must be disposed of quickly because the rockets are deteriorating. It is believed the gas is seeping into the rockets' propellant chambers, with possible danger of detonation.

The only disposal method that can be achieved quickly, the Army says, is to place the vaults aboard the ship and sink it. To destroy the supply with an underground nuclear blast, for example, would require 15 months' preparation.

There has been opposition from U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, a few congressmen, and Florida Gov. Claude Kirk, who filed suit Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Washington.

The suit, filed jointly with the Environmental Defense Fund, asks that the Army be required to prove that the dumping site is the best possible location and that the scuttling plan is the safest disposal method.

Lawyers for Kirk and the fund said they would appear in court today to ask for a temporary restraining order pending settlement of the suit.

Senate Faces Crucial Vote On ABM Net

Late-Afternoon Ballot To Decide System's Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the outcome too close to call, the Senate faces a crucial vote on restricting the Safeguard antiballistic missile system, amid warnings a vote against the ABM will be counted a vote against President Nixon.

Supporters of Safeguard claimed victory Tuesday morning, but by nightfall the situation was so cloudy no one was sure even which of two amendments would be used to attack the ABM system.

The vote was scheduled at 3:30 p.m. today.

The vote assured a new Senate-White House confrontation a day after Nixon vetoed two domestic spending bills because they exceeded his budget by more than $1 billion.

Most senators opposed to Safeguard have contended the billions it may cost—$50 billion by the estimate of one critic could better be used to ease homefront crises.

The pending $19.2 billion military procurement bill contains $1.4 billion for Safeguard during the next fiscal year.

Announcements by three Democrats only added to the confusion about the outcome of the ABM vote.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., and Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., announced they will vote for an amendment which prohibits extension of the ABM to two more sites requested by Nixon. The amendment is sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., said he will vote against Cooper-Hart but for another amendment to bar expansion of the two new sites and spend $322 million to beef up the ABM at the two original sites at Malmstrom and Grand Forks Air Force bases.

The original Safeguard program was approved by a one-vote margin last year.

Ohio's Corn Crop 258 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated Tuesday Ohio's corn crop this year will be 258 million bushels, a yield of 88 bushels per acre.

Other crop estimates for Ohio: Winter wheat 36.4 million bushels and 37.5 per acre; Oats 29.4 million and 57; soybeans 73.1 million and 30; Sugarbeets 680,000 tons and 17 tons per acre.

Porno Study Disclaimed By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says the President's Commission on Pornography, whose preliminary report is under attack in Congress, is not a part of the Nixon administration.

"This is not Nixon's commission," Ronald L. Ziegler, the President's news secretary, said Tuesday. "It was formed under a previous administration. He did not appoint the members, and the commission's recommendations are not those of this administration."

Ziegler made the statement as the House postal operations subcommittee was challenging the draft report. The biggest fuss has come over tests, sanctioned by the panel, in which reactions of 23 young men to stag movies were checked.

Ziegler said no White House staff members were involved in the experiment.

"There is no intent to prejudice the findings of the report," Ziegler said. But he said Nixon "believes pornography and obscenity relate to adverse social conduct."

The commission's draft report concluded that exposure to pornography does not result in an increase in sex crimes.

Farm Subsidy Curb May Signal End To Federal Crop Aid

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The $55,000 ceiling on farm subsidy payments voted by the House represents only a $58 million cutback in the $3.5 billion program, but some congressmen see the action as the first step in eliminating payments to farmers for not growing crops.

"This may be the last farm bill Congress ever passes," said Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., after the House approved the omnibus bill containing the subsidy ceiling. "One way to end the program is to cut down on payments."

Some lawmakers don't want to end the program. The result, they say, would be higher food prices, a cutback in the number of farms and the threat of an economic disaster.

The bill, which sets the $55,000 per crop ceiling on cotton, feed grains and wheat, now goes to the Senate where President Nixon is expected to fight attempts to lower the limit to $20,000. Present law sets no limit.

The House passed the bill last week after Nixon urged acceptance of the Agriculture Committee version with the $55,000 lid. Backers of the lower figure have vowed to continue the fight after the Senate acts and the bill goes to conference committee.

The subsidy lid was a landmark move to include in a general farm bill restraints on huge subsidy payments to individual growers.

It was time, the House decided, to shut off million-dollar subsidy payments—five of them last year—to huge operators like the J.G. Boswell Co., Corcoran, Calif., whose $4,370,657 payment has become a rallying cry for subsidy critics.

The limitation, to begin next year, was introduced in the Senate by Dole, one of Nixon's staunchest supporters.

But Dole is with Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, the White House and the House Agriculture Committee in holding the line at $55,000 limit, a figure deemed ridiculously high by farm critics.

The issue is expected to come to a head on Aug. 18 when the Senate Agriculture Committee takes up the farm bill. Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., told a reporter he will do all he can to get the legislative package through Congress by Labor Day. He also is reconciled to a subsidy lid but says anything lower than $55,000 would disrupt agriculture severely.

The subsidy issue has been simmering a long time. Twice in recent years the House has passed a $20,000 lid, with both efforts failing in conferences with the Senate.

This year the Senate went for a $20,000 limit. The House action headed off the lower restriction but included a measure which sets up key programs for the most bothersome of the nation's major farm commodities.

The $55,000-per-crop limit would shave about $58 million from the subsidy program if applied strictly to the more than 100,000 farms that are not (Continued on Page 22)

MAYOR Richard Gerhardt has issued a proclamation in honor of Roger Smith, Commander of the American Legion for the state of Ohio.

Saturday has been proclaimed Roger Smith Day in Circleville. A member of Hall-Adkins Post 134, he is the first Pickaway County resident ever elected to the high post he now holds.

Hall-Adkins Post has planned a gala celebration in his honor Saturday in the coliseum at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Legion dignitaries from all over the state plan to attend the reception and dance being held in his honor. Smith is a farmer and lives on Route 1, Ashville.

CIRCLEVILLE Income tax department today reminded residents the new tax went into effect July 28 and collections are to continue without interruption. The department also noted that second quarter employee withholding tax is past due.

Apparently quite a few local citizens are under the impression the tax ceased when the original ordinance was declared invalid by Howard Goldsberry, retired Ross County Common Pleas Judge, who heard the income tax case by assignment.

Council wasted no time in enacting a new ordinance to permit uninterrupted collection of the one-half per cent tax.

PRESIDENT Richard Nixon acknowledged the gift of a pie from Pumpkin Show Inc. The pie was delivered by Mayor Richard Gerhardt. The president was in Cincinnati at the time watching the Major League All-Star baseball game in new Riverfront Stadium.

"I want you to know how pleased I was by this thoughtful and generous gesture and how much I appreciate the efforts of all who had a part in this unique presentation," the President's thank you note read. "I hope, too, that your October Pumpkin Show will be a great success."

Hurricane Disaster Feared As Beach Population Grows

MIAMI (AP) — Expanding populations along the warm weather coasts of the Atlantic and Gulf states could become "sitting ducks for disaster" unless escape routes are provided from tropical storms, says the chief of the National Hurricane Center.

"A hurricane in the near future could kill 20,000 or 30,000, even 50,000 people unless we have sound planning," Dr. Robert H. Simpson told President Nixon's fourth regional Disaster Preparedness Conference Tuesday.

"I am enormously concerned with development of high density populations right at the shore lines," Simpson said. "If we stack in people by hundreds of thousands and fail to provide escape routes, we will be sitting ducks for disaster one of these days."

Simpson said Dade County—Miami—is a prime example of mushrooming population and poor planning.

If a major hurricane struck south of Miami, he said, 250,000 people jammed between U.S. 1 and Biscayne Bay would have only the one highway on which to travel to shelter.

"A very high percentage of these people would be drowned or killed by flying debris," he said.

Simpson said disaster officials from 12 Southern and Southwestern states that Hurricane Celia, which ravaged Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 3, was "a meteorological enigma which will give forecasters and building engineers something to think about for years."

The highest gusts registered by the Weather Bureau hit 161 miles per hour, Simpson said. "But who can say how high they actually were? They might have been 40 per cent higher."

Simpson said it was the first time on record that the major damage from a hurricane was done by gusts rather than sustained winds.

"Building engineers have told us through the years that they design for sustained winds and do not bother about gust loads," Simpson said.

"We can measure these sustained winds but there is no known means of predicting gust speeds. This calls for new thinking in meteorology and in designing of our building structures," he said.

Foreign Trade Bill Put Together By House Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new foreign trade bill to curtail imports but giving the president broad power to ease the restrictions has been put together by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The bill was hammered together during weeks of controversy over such things as quotas on textile and shoe imports.

Officials were chary of predicting the impact of the measure on consumer prices in this country and on the United States' relations with its trading partners. For some 35 years the national policy has been to press for freer exchange of goods.

There was agreement that any restriction of supply tends to raise the price of an article.

Adding to the uncertainty is the possibility the Senate may try to make the bill even more restrictive. Its final shape will not be known until after the two branches of Congress name conferees to work out the ultimate language.

The measure gives Nixon some of the things he asked for and others—such as shoe quotas—which he opposed. Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he does not expect a veto if the bill is enacted in its present form.

Major provisions call for: —Mandatory quotas on imports of textile articles and footwear. Exporting countries could avoid these by negotiating voluntary limitations. The president could, in the national interest, lift the restrictions by categories or country of origin. —Procedures under which the Tariff Commission, by finding that certain imports damage U.S. business and labor, could call for countermeasures, including quotas, on any goods. The president, again by invoking national interest, could prevent these going into effect.

—Repeal of the American Selling Price system of setting duties on benzoinoid chemicals and a few other products.

—Repeal of the ban on importing Soviet furs.

After a committee vote on final language Thursday, the bill heads for the House with action expected in September.

'70 Harvest May Drop For Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acreage cutbacks, dry weather and tighter government controls on some commodities have reduced prospects for another record-breaking harvest for American farmers.

Total production, however, is expected to be down only slightly from the record in 1969, the Agriculture Department said.

Tighter acreage controls on wheat and rice, for example, have helped push food grain prospects down 7 per cent from 1969, according to the department's monthly crop report issued Tuesday.

Production of noncitrus fruit, including apples, peaches and pears, was predicted to be 12 per cent less, and the output of half a dozen major vegetables for processing 5 per cent less.

Over-all, the Crop Reporting Board said, the "all crops" index as of August 1 was 20.6 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average, compared with a gain last year of 21.3 per cent.

The nation's corn crop, a key in total farm production, was estimated at 4.69 billion bushels. This is down 127 million from the July forecast but still 3 per cent more than 1969 production.

Production of all wheat was estimated at 1.357 billion bushels, a slight gain from July indications but 7 per cent less than 1969 output. A smaller government acreage allotment was in effect for this year's crop.

5 Israelis Are Killed

TEL AVIV (AP) — Five Israeli civilians were killed at the southern end of the Golan Heights Tuesday night, the Israeli military command announced. Officials said it appeared that their jeep struck a mine.

A spokesman said the bodies of the three women and two men were found in their jeep near their settlement, Ramat Maghshim, on the plateau which Israel took from Syria in the 1967 war.

On April 23, two Israeli civilians were killed and another five wounded in a Syrian ambush in the area. Neither Syria nor the Arab guerrillas based in neighboring areas of Syria and Jordan accepted the cease-fire in which Egypt, Israel and Jordan joined last weekend, and Israeli troops killed an Arab infiltrator in a fire fight at the southern end of the heights Monday night.

The command in Tel Aviv also reported that small arms fire from Jordan wounded an Israeli soldier on border patrol today near Newe Ur, in the Jordan valley. A spokesman said the fire was returned.

House OKs Curb On Spending By Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to limit broadcast spending by candidates for major political offices but faces a fight with the Senate over whether the restrictions should apply to the 1970 elections.

Backers said a ceiling on radio and television expenditures was needed to reduce the rapidly escalating cost of running for public office.

A solid 272-77 majority Tuesday night sent an expanded version of a Senate-passed bill back to the Senate and an expected later conference with the House to iron out differences in the two measures.

Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., of the House Commerce Committee, who will lead the House conferees, said the legislation's effective date will be the chief difference to resolve.

Suspend Policeman For Losing Temper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Safety Director James Hughes suspended Patrolman Mount Vernon Johnson for 15 days Tuesday for losing his temper while arresting a woman at a traffic accident scene July 28.

Mrs. Era Yavonna Allen, 33, received a broken arm when Johnson tried to arrest her. Hughes found Johnson innocent of using unlawful physical force, but guilty of violating regulations requiring an officer to maintain an even disposition.

Ed Montgomery, a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter, said in his story that Jonathan Jackson, 17, who carried the guns into the San Rafael courtroom, had served recently as a bodyguard for Miss Davis, 26.

Jackson and two of three convicts to whom he gave arms in the escape attempt were killed as they tried to drive away in a van.

Inside the van, Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley, one of five hostages, was shot to death. An automatic carbine and a Browning .380 caliber automatic pistol found inside the van were traced by serial numbers. The Examiner said the name of Angela Davis was recorded for purchase of the pistol Jan. 12, 1968, at the Brass Rail in Los Angeles, and for the purchase of the carbine April 7, 1969, at Western Surplus in Los Angeles.

At the time the guns were purchased Miss Davis was teaching at the University of California in San Diego.

Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales refused to talk with newsmen about the Examiner's report. He is heading the investigation of the shootout.

House Demos Seek Override; GOP Must Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, reacting sharply to President Nixon's veto of education and government agency money bills, spearheaded an attack today to reverse the chief executive's action.

The Democrats were expected to receive some support from Republicans who earlier had urged Nixon to let the bills become law without his signature.

Nixon vetoed Tuesday the $4.4 billion education appropriation and $18 billion measure to run a variety of federal agencies on grounds they pose "a threat to every American's pocketbook."

The two bills would have added nearly $1 billion to the administration's budget recommendations. Nixon said they represent "the kind of big spending that would drive up prices or demand higher taxes."

House Democratic leaders, hoping to capture the two-thirds margin necessary to override Presidential vetoes, scheduled the showdown votes Thursday as the first order of business.

Democratic leaders were optimistic about their chances for overriding the Office of Education bill, but less certain about the prospects for the larger measure. Many Republicans, including Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, shared that appraisal.

The announcement that Nixon vetoed the bills prompted a sharp exchange on the House floor. Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said Nixon was attempting to shift the blame for inflation and high interest rates to the Democrats.

Boggs said the $1 billion addition to the two measures amounted to less than half the additional cost to the government from increased interest rates.

Ford, however, said, "When you spend more than you take in, you inevitably add to the cost of interest to the federal government."

Nixon said his vetoes were "painful, but necessary to hold down the rising cost of living."

Democratic national chairman Larry O'Brien said Nixon's action "illustrated in stark terms the distorted priorities of his administration."

Death Guns Bought By Red Teacher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two of three guns smuggled into a courtroom and used in last Friday's shootout that killed a judge and three others were purchased in 1968 and 1969 by Angela Davis, Communist university instructor, the San Francisco Examiner says.

Miss Davis, who says her political views led to her discharge as a philosophy teacher at the University of California at Los Angeles, was not available for comment on the newspaper's copyright story published Tuesday.

Ed Montgomery, a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter, said in his story that Jonathan Jackson, 17, who carried the guns into the San Rafael courtroom, had served recently as a bodyguard for Miss Davis, 26.

Jackson and two of three convicts to whom he gave arms in the escape attempt were killed as they tried to drive away in a van.

Officials were chary of predicting the impact of the measure on consumer prices in this country and on the United States' relations with its trading partners. For some 35 years the national policy has been to press for freer exchange of goods.
There was agreement that any restriction of supply tends to raise the price of an article.
Adding to the uncertainty is the possibility the Senate may try to make the bill even more restrictive. Its final shape will not be known until after the two branches of Congress name conferees to work out the ultimate language.
The measure gives Nixon some of the things he asked for and others—such as shoe quotas—which he opposed. Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he does not expect a veto if the bill is enacted in its present form.
Major provisions call for:
—Mandatory quotas on imports of textile articles and footwear. Exporting countries could avoid these by negotiating voluntary limitations. The president could, in the national interest, lift the restrictions by categories or country of origin.
—Procedures under which the

Kirkpatrick To Head FTC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philadelphia lawyer Miles W. Kirkpatrick, who once headed a committee that recommended reform or abolishment of the Federal Trade Commission, has been selected by President Nixon to head the agency.
Nixon announced Tuesday his nomination of the 52-year-old seven-year-term of resigned Chairman Caspar W. Weinberger, who joins the Office of Management and Budget.
Nixon said Kirkpatrick would serve as chairman of the FTC, if he wins Senate confirmation, for the term ending in September, 1976.
Kirkpatrick headed a late 1969 study of the FTC, at Nixon's request, by a panel of the American Bar Association.
His report concluded that the consumer protection agency was ineffective, preoccupied with trivia and riddled with dissension.
And the 119-page document commented that if major changes did not occur, "there will be no substantial purpose to be served by the FTC's continued existence," and other agencies should take up the slack.
Since then, there have been some revisions. Nixon replaced longtime Chairman Paul R. Dixon with Weinberger in November. And last month the agency began operating under a reorganization plan.
But criticism hasn't stopped. FTC Commissioner Philip Elman said Tuesday the agency should be abolished, with its functions split between a single administrator and a trade court.
Kirkpatrick has charged sluggishness and failure to deal strictly enough with deceptive practices by industry. His report noted some proceedings had dragged on for 10 years or more.

5 Israelis Are Killed

TEL AVIV (AP) — Five Israeli civilians were killed at the southern end of the Golan Heights Tuesday night, the Israeli military command announced. Officials said it appeared that their jeep struck a mine.
A spokesman said the bodies of the three women and two men were found in their jeep near their settlement, Ramat Maghshimim, on the plateau which Israel took from Syria in the 1967 war.
On April 23, two Israeli civilians were killed and another five wounded in a Syrian ambush in the area. Neither Syria nor the Arab guerrillas based in neighboring areas of Syria and Jordan accepted the cease-fire in which Egypt, Israel and Jordan joined last weekend, and Israeli troops killed an Arab infiltrator in a fire fight at the southern end of the heights Monday night.
The command in Tel Aviv also reported that small arms fire from Jordan wounded an Israeli soldier on border patrol today near Neve Ur, in the Jordan valley. A spokesman said the fire was returned.

House OKs Curb On Spending By Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to limit broad-based spending by candidates for major political offices but faces a fight with the Senate over whether the restrictions should apply to the 1970 elections.
Backers said a ceiling on radio and television expenditures was needed to reduce the rapidly escalating cost of running for public office.
A solid 272-79 majority Tuesday night sent an expanded version of a Senate-passed bill back to the Senate and an expected later conference with the House to iron out differences in the two measures.
Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., of the House Commerce Committee, who will lead the House conferees, said the legislation's effective date will be the chief difference to resolve.

done by gusts rather than sustained winds.
"Building engineers have told us through the years that they design for sustained winds and do not bother about gust loads," Simpson said.
"We can measure these sustained winds but there is no known means of predicting gust speeds. This calls for new thinking in meteorology and in designing of our building structures," he said.

'70 Harvest May Drop For Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acreage cutbacks, dry weather and tighter government controls on some commodities have reduced prospects for another record-breaking harvest for American farmers.
Total production, however, is expected to be down only slightly from the record in 1969, the Agriculture Department said.
Tighter acreage controls on wheat and rice, for example, have helped push food grain prospects down 7 per cent from 1969, according to the department's monthly crop report issued Tuesday.
Production of noncitrus fruit, including apples, peaches and pears, was predicted to be 12 per cent less, and the output of half a dozen major vegetables for processing 5 per cent less.
Over-all, the Crop Reporting Board said, the "all crops" index as of August 1 was 20.6 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average, compared with a gain last year of 21.3 per cent.
The nation's corn crop, a key in total farm production, was estimated at 4.69 billion bushels. This is down 127 million from the July forecast but still 3 per cent more than 1969 production.
Production of all wheat was estimated at 1.357 billion bushels, a slight gain from July indications but 7 per cent less than 1969 output. A smaller government acreage allotment was in effect for this year's crop.

Suspend Policeman For Losing Temper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Safety Director James Hughes suspended Patrolman Mount Vernon Johnson for 15 days Tuesday for losing his temper while arresting a woman at a traffic accident scene July 28.
Mrs. Era Yavonna Allen, 33, received a broken arm when Johnson tried to arrest her. Hughes found Johnson innocent of using unlawful physical force, but guilty of violating regulations requiring an officer to maintain an even disposition.

House Demos Seek Override; GOP Must Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, reacting sharply to President Nixon's veto of education and government agency money bills, spearheaded an attack today to reverse the chief executive's action.
The Democrats were expected to receive some support from Republicans who earlier had urged Nixon to let the bills become law without his signature.
Nixon vetoed Tuesday's $4.4 billion education appropriation and $18 billion measure to run a variety of federal agencies on grounds they pose "a threat to every American's pocketbook."
The two bills would have added nearly $1 billion to the administration's budget recommendations. Nixon said they represent "the kind of big spending that would drive up prices or demand higher taxes."
House Democratic leaders, hoping to capture the two-thirds margin necessary to override Presidential vetoes, scheduled the showdown votes Thursday as the first order of business.
Democratic leaders were optimistic about their chances for overriding the Office of Education bill, but less certain about the prospects for the larger measure. Many Republicans, including Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, shared that appraisal.
The announcement that Nixon vetoed the bills prompted a sharp exchange on the House floor. Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said Nixon was attempting to shift the blame for inflation and high interest rates to the Democrats.
Boggs said the $1 billion addition to the two measures amounted to less than half the additional cost to the government from increased interest rates.
Ford, however, said, "When you spend more than you take in, you inevitably add to the cost of interest to the federal government."
Nixon said his vetoes were "painful, but necessary to hold down the rising cost of living."
Democratic national chairman Larry O'Brien said Nixon's action "illustrated in starkest terms the distorted priorities of his administration."

Death Guns Bought By Red Teacher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two of three guns smuggled into a courtroom and used in last Friday's shootout that killed a judge and three others were purchased in 1968 and 1969 by Angela Davis, Communist university instructor, the San Francisco Examiner says.
Miss Davis, who says her political views led to her discharge as a philosophy teacher at the University of California at Los Angeles, was not available for comment on the newspaper's copyright story published Tuesday.
Ed Montgomery, a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter, said in his story that Jonathan Jackson, 17, who carried the guns into the San Rafael courtroom, had served recently as a bodyguard for Miss Davis, 26.
Jackson and two of three convicts to whom he gave arms in the escape attempt were killed as they tried to drive away in a van.
Inside the van, Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley, one of five hostages, was shot to death. An automatic carbine and a Browning .380 caliber automatic pistol found inside the van were traced by serial numbers. The Examiner said the name of Angela Davis was recorded for purchase of the pistol Jan. 12, 1968, at the Brass Rail in Los Angeles, and for the purchase of the carbine April 7, 1969, at Western Surplus in Los Angeles.
At the time the guns were purchased Miss Davis was teaching at the University of California in San Diego.
Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales refused to talk with newsmen about the Examiner's report. He is heading the investigation of the shootout.

Farm Subsidy Curb May Signal End To Federal Crop Aid

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The $55,000 ceiling on farm subsidy payments voted by the House represents only a $58 million cutback in the $3.5 billion program, but some congressmen see the action as the first step in eliminating payments to farmers for not growing crops.
"This may be the last farm bill Congress ever passes," said Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., after the House approved the omnibus bill containing the subsidy ceiling. "One way to end the program is to cut down on payments."

Some lawmakers don't want to end the program. The result, they say, would be higher food prices, a cutback in the number of farms and the threat of an economic disaster.
The bill, which sets the $55,000 per crop ceiling on cotton, feed grains and wheat, now goes to the Senate where President Nixon is expected to fight attempts to lower the limit to $20,000. Present law sets no limit.

The House passed the bill last week after Nixon urged acceptance of the Agriculture Committee version with the $55,000 lid. Backers of the lower figure have vowed to continue the fight after the Senate acts and the bill goes to conference committee.
The subsidy lid was a landmark move to include in a general farm bill restraints on huge subsidy payments to individual growers.
It was time, the House decided, to shut off million-dollar subsidy payments—five of them last year—to huge operators like the J.G. Boswell Co., Corcoran, Calif., whose $4,379,657 payment has become a rallying cry for subsidy critics.

The limitation, to begin next year, was introduced in the Senate by Dole, one of Nixon's staunchest supporters.
But Dole is with Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, the White House and the House Agriculture Committee in holding the line at $55,000 limit, a figure deemed ridiculously high by farm critics.
The issue is expected to come to a head on Aug. 18 when the Senate Agriculture Committee takes up the farm bill. Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., told a reporter he will do all he can to get the legislative package through Congress by Labor Day. He also is reconciled to a subsidy lid but says anything lower than $55,000 would disrupt agriculture severely.
The subsidy issue has been simmering a long time. Twice in recent years the House has passed a $20,000 lid, with both efforts failing in conferences with the Senate.

This year the Senate went for a $20,000 limit. The House action headed off the lower restriction but included a measure which sets up key programs for the most bothersome of the nation's major farm commodities.
The $55,000-per-crop limit would shave about $58 million from the subsidy program if applied strictly to the more than (Continued on Page 22)

State Treasurer Claims Construction Loans Legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert said Tuesday the $5.4 million in speculative housing loans to Almour Securities Co. of Cleveland are legal and fully insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Herbert said he had conferred with Newton Jones, an officer of the regional FHA office in Columbus, "and have been reassured that FHA has completely insured the loans... since the original disbursement of funds were made on the investment in April."

Franklin County Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson ordered an investigation of the loans following news accounts that the loans appeared to be unsecured and might be illegal.

Johnson, now conducting a special grand jury investigation into state investment practices said, "We'll look into the facts and inform the grand jury."

Almour, according to the Cleveland Plain Dealer, secured the loans for its parent firm, Citizens Financial Corp. of Cleveland for financing apartment projects in Columbus and Newark.

The Plain Dealer quoted a Citizens Financial director who said there was nothing improper about the loans because the FHA loan guarantee was transferred from Almour to the state.

The newspaper also quoted an FHA official who questioned whether such a guarantee could be transferred to the state.

Edwin Davis, FHA deputy director in Columbus, said there is no state money in jeopardy. He added, "I don't think Ohio is an approved mortgagee under the technical terms of FHA, but our contract with Almour is good as gold."

The Plain Dealer plus the Mansfield News Journal and Akron Beacon Journal accounts questioned whether the federal government would guarantee the 11.5 per cent interest rate called for in the loan.

Davis said FHA guarantees loans up to 8 1/2 per cent interest.

The News Journal reported that sources in the state auditor's office also strongly questioned whether there was a guarantee by the federal government because the loans were on construction of housing. The paper quoted Davis as saying, "FHA does not insure construction loans from the state treasury."

He emphasized though Tuesday that while no state money is in jeopardy, there is a technicality "whether the state has a secured loan with FHA."

Penn Central Must Continue Train Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Penn Central Railroad was ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday to continue operating one of its New York - Chicago passenger trains.

Reversing an earlier decision, the ICC said one train can be operated between the two cities without substantial financial loss and should be continued "in the public interest."

Elimination of trains 50 and 53, would have eliminated Penn Central passenger service between the two cities.

Last November the ICC gave the railroad permission to drop both trains.

It reviewed the order at the request of public service commissions of Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois and decided train No. 50 should continue operating.

Bar Movie At Drive-In

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Warren County prosecutor James D. Ruppert filed suits in Common Pleas Court today to enjoin the showing of the motion picture "Camille 2,000" on the grounds it is obscene and a public nuisance.

The film has been showing at the Academy Drive-In theater, near here.

The film was confiscated and Ruppert said warrants have been obtained charging the president of the theater, the manager and the projectionist with possession of an obscene movie. He said he did not know their names immediately because of a recent change in ownership in the theater.

Ruppert said the decision to file the injunction suit came after receipt of complaints from residents of the area that the X-rated movie was "clearly visible" from their homes and that children "were being exposed to scenes portraying sexual activities offensive to the public."

The prosecutor said recent Supreme Court decisions have made enforcement of obscenity laws difficult and that "filing criminal charges without the nuisance action would be a waste of the taxpayers' money."

Columbus Ship Santa Maria Believed Found

MIAMI (AP) — Two experts in marine archeology will travel to Haiti this weekend to help a group of explorers and businessmen seek evidence that the Santa Maria, long-lost flagship of Christopher Columbus, has been found.

The explorers and businessmen, led by Fred Dickson of West Palm Beach, say they believe a coral-encrusted wreck in about 15 feet of water off Cape Haitien on Haiti's north coast is the Santa Maria.

"We are now 95 per cent sure we have found the Santa Maria," said Herman W. Kitchen, codiscoverer of the wreck. Items removed from a wrecked ship at the site have been dated by scientific techniques and apparently are from the Columbus era, the team reported.

The Santa Maria, one of three ships that carried Columbus to his discovery of the New World, ran aground and was abandoned at Christmas 1492.

Democrats hoped the lure of big money allotments for veterans' hospitals and schools would give impetus to their drive.

One bill would provide $18 billion in new funds for the Veterans' Administration and a score of other agencies.

One of the larger boosts in the education bill was $126 million in funds for so-called impacted school districts heavily populated by children of federal employees. Another hike over the budget was $232 million for various secondary and elementary school programs.

The impacted school districts are scattered among more than 350 congressional districts.

Stock List Near Even

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market sat tight this morning. Prices fluctuated narrowly, and trading was light.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks had slipped a mere 1.09 points to 711.46.

Declines barely inched beyond advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

With such dispirited activity there really was not much for the analysts to talk about. Generally they contented themselves with musings about a possible autumn rally.

On this issue opinion was divided. Some felt after the usual summer slowdown some type of rally could be expected. Others said some of the nagging doubts hanging over Wall Street would have to be resolved first.

Among these problems are things like inflation, tight money, high interest rates, corporate liquidity, and international tensions. With so many factors up in the air right now, it is difficult for most investors to make the decision to act, these brokers said.

Airlines and rails were up. Metals, utilities, and rubber issues were off. All other stock categories were mixed.

Heavy War Action Continues Around Fire Base O'Reilly

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces battled the North Vietnamese for the fourth day today at Fire Base O'Reilly, in the northern part of the country, and claimed 96 enemy killed in two battles in the south. But Saigon's forces suffered heavy casualties in one of the latter engagements.

A company manning an outpost about a mile south of O'Reilly beat back an attack before dawn by a North Vietnamese company and reported 10 of the enemy killed. The defenders said two of their men were wounded.

Military spokesmen said contact with the North Vietnamese continued during the morning.

The artillery base 27 miles west of Hue has been under mortar and automatic weapons attack since Sunday by massing North Vietnamese troops who also have made several probing ground attacks against outposts. The base and its outposts are defended by a 665-man battalion from the South Vietnamese 1st Division, supported by American helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers.

The enemy force in the area is estimated at 1,500 men.

O'Reilly is one of five mountain artillery strongpoints strung along North Vietnamese supply and infiltration routes to the populous coastal lowlands to the east.

South Vietnamese infantrymen fought another engagement Tuesday in the Mekong Delta 43 miles southwest of Saigon. The government's military headquarters reported 51 Viet Cong killed, 28 of them by helicopter gunships, and said there was only one government casualty, a wounded man.

In Cambodia, the Cambodian military command reported that government forces drove off an enemy attack on Dang Kor, within five miles of Phnom Penh. It was the third attack in five days within rocket range of the Cambodian capital, and observers there expect the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese to begin shelling the city soon.

Fifteen persons were taken to hospitals, officials said.

The airline said five foreigners were aboard: four Japanese and D.N. Shroff, whose nationality was not known. Shroff was among the survivors.

Bar Movie At Drive-In

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Warren County prosecutor James D. Ruppert filed suits in Common Pleas Court today to enjoin the showing of the motion picture "Camille 2,000" on the grounds it is obscene and a public nuisance.

The film has been showing at the Academy Drive-In theater, near here.

The film was confiscated and Ruppert said warrants have been obtained charging the president of the theater, the manager and the projectionist with possession of an obscene movie. He said he did not know their names immediately because of a recent change in ownership in the theater.

Ruppert said the decision to file the injunction suit came after receipt of complaints from residents of the area that the X-rated movie was "clearly visible" from their homes and that children "were being exposed to scenes portraying sexual activities offensive to the public."

The prosecutor said recent Supreme Court decisions have made enforcement of obscenity laws difficult and that "filing criminal charges without the nuisance action would be a waste of the taxpayers' money."

Columbus Ship Santa Maria Believed Found

MIAMI (AP) — Two experts in marine archeology will travel to Haiti this weekend to help a group of explorers and businessmen seek evidence that the Santa Maria, long-lost flagship of Christopher Columbus, has been found.

The explorers and businessmen, led by Fred Dickson of West Palm Beach, say they believe a coral-encrusted wreck in about 15 feet of water off Cape Haitien on Haiti's north coast is the Santa Maria.

"We are now 95 per cent sure we have found the Santa Maria," said Herman W. Kitchen, codiscoverer of the wreck. Items removed from a wrecked ship at the site have been dated by scientific techniques and apparently are from the Columbus era, the team reported.

The Santa Maria, one of three ships that carried Columbus to his discovery of the New World, ran aground and was abandoned at Christmas 1492.

refusal to use the powers of the presidency to control excessive price and wage decisions, and his refusal to use the economic tools which Congress has given him," O'Brien added.

Democrats hoped the lure of big money allotments for veterans' hospitals and schools would give impetus to their drive.

One bill would provide $18 billion in new funds for the Veterans' Administration and a score of other agencies.

One of the larger boosts in the education bill was $126 million in funds for so-called impacted school districts heavily populated by children of federal employees. Another hike over the budget was $232 million for various secondary and elementary school programs.

The impacted school districts are scattered among more than 350 congressional districts.

Stock List Near Even

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market sat tight this morning. Prices fluctuated narrowly, and trading was light.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks had slipped a mere 1.09 points to 711.46.

Declines barely inched beyond advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

With such dispirited activity there really was not much for the analysts to talk about. Generally they contented themselves with musings about a possible autumn rally.

On this issue opinion was divided. Some felt after the usual summer slowdown some type of rally could be expected. Others said some of the nagging doubts hanging over Wall Street would have to be resolved first.

Among these problems are things like inflation, tight money, high interest rates, corporate liquidity, and international tensions. With so many factors up in the air right now, it is difficult for most investors to make the decision to act, these brokers said.

Airlines and rails were up. Metals, utilities, and rubber issues were off. All other stock categories were mixed.

Heavy War Action Continues Around Fire Base O'Reilly

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces battled the North Vietnamese for the fourth day today at Fire Base O'Reilly, in the northern part of the country, and claimed 96 enemy killed in two battles in the south. But Saigon's forces suffered heavy casualties in one of the latter engagements.

A company manning an outpost about a mile south of O'Reilly beat back an attack before dawn by a North Vietnamese company and reported 10 of the enemy killed. The defenders said two of their men were wounded.

Military spokesmen said contact with the North Vietnamese continued during the morning.

The artillery base 27 miles west of Hue has been under mortar and automatic weapons attack since Sunday by massing North Vietnamese troops who also have made several probing ground attacks against outposts. The base and its outposts are defended by a 665-man battalion from the South Vietnamese 1st Division, supported by American helicopter gunships and "lighter-bombers."

The enemy force in the area is estimated at 1,500 men.

O'Reilly is one of five mountain artillery strongpoints strung along North Vietnamese supply and infiltration routes to the populous coastal lowlands to the east.

South Vietnamese infantrymen fought another engagement Tuesday in the Mekong Delta 43 miles southwest of Saigon. The government's military headquarters reported 51 Viet Cong killed, 28 of them by helicopter gunships, and said there was only one government casualty, a wounded man.

In Cambodia, the Cambodian military command reported that government forces drove off an enemy attack on Dang Kor, within five miles of Phnom Penh. It was the third attack in five days within rocket range of the Cambodian capital, and observers there expect the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese to begin shelling the city soon.

Plane Crashes On Formosa; 16 Said Killed

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Sixteen persons were believed killed today when a China Airlines plane crashed on a mountainside half a mile from President Chiang Kai-shek's residence. Chiang was away on vacation.

The Japanese-built plane, carrying 26 passengers and a crew of five, crashed in heavy rain and fog while approaching Taipei on a flight from the eastern resort city of Hualien.

Fifteen persons were taken to hospitals, officials said.

The airline said five foreigners were aboard: four Japanese and D.N. Shroff, whose nationality was not known. Shroff was among the survivors.

Robbing Taxpayers

Thefts of the American taxpayers' hard-earned tax dollars in the form of stolen aid shipments in foreign countries is not a new phenomenon. But it is one of the worst abuses of tax dollars, and one taxpayers have a right to demand be corrected.

Eighteen months ago a major scandal was unveiled in the Defense Department when it was revealed by a Navy fuel inspector that 52 per cent of all gasoline sent to Thailand has been stolen. A furor broke out in Congress and resulting investigations widely implied gasoline shipments to other points in Asia were being similarly mishandled.

Following a familiar pattern, the controversy died down before proof of corrective action was forthcoming. Now, two senators, Montoya and Proxmire, charge that safeguards which were supposed to be instituted last July 1 are not working and millions of dollars of petroleum products are still being stolen not only in Thailand, but in Taiwan, Vietnam, Laos, Okinawa and the Philippines.

There is a way this wholesale pilferage can be stopped, and that is for Congress to cut the appropriations for such shipments by the percentage independent investigators determine has been stolen. If the recipient countries have been able to get along on the depleted shipments there is no reason why the American taxpayer should be subsidizing black market operations in half of Asia.

Such a move would place the responsibility where it belongs — on the recipient to see the aid is used for the purpose intended.

Down The Hatch

A spate of new gastronomic records being set is worth noting only because of the sheer excess of it all.

A South African, who weighed 320 pounds before he began, has claimed a new world's record by eating 50 bananas in 10 minutes. This was followed by a Seattle fireman, who downed 154 clams in six minutes to win the honors in the "Put Up or Clam Up Far Western Classic."

Undaunted, an Irish steelworker chose another weapon for his new world's record by finishing off 23 bowls of porridge in 10 minutes. What could possibly follow these achievements except a couple gallons of bicarbonate of soda?

Laff-A-Day

"Yes, we do have 'Scouting for Boys', but I'm afraid you're going to be disappointed."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE OPPOSITION candidate concluded an intemperate and inept tirade with a bang of his fist on the lectern and a cry: "Are you going to take all this lying down?" "Not on your life," came a voice from the rear. "We've got shorthand reporters here for that."

A timely reminder from Norman Runyon in his book, "Up the Ivy Ladder": "Although there will be hundreds of times when you will wish it were not so, a college cannot exist without students. This is sometimes unfortunate. Students get in the way of faculty research projects, and they sometimes interrupt the smooth functioning of the administration. As a result, proposals are often made to abolish students. One suggestion, which came from an administrator, was for students to mail in their four years of tuition in mid-September of their 18th year. They would receive by return post, a degree of their choice. A 15% premium would be charged for cum laude."

At a Fifth Avenue clubhouse: "I'm not sure what they're teaching my kid at that school in France this year, but he's mailed me eight postal cards since Christmas vacation—and the Customs office has confiscated six of them!" Fly-casting champ: "Ah, spring! That's the time we fishermen get that faraway lake in our eyes."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

What is responsible for a sudden inflammation of the nerves of the body in a healthy man of 45? It has been called "polyneuritis."

Mrs. Y. N., Ohio Dear Mrs. N.: Polyneuritis is a very complicated disorder that involves nerves in various parts of the body. It is so generalized that the symptoms vary extensively in severity.

As an illustration of how bizarre this condition is, I will name only a few of the possible causes: acute infectious diseases, poisons, chronic alcoholism, vitamin deficiencies, circulatory disorders, injuries, even severe intestinal disorders.

To make the problem even more complicated, polyneuritis may be the result of some factor which is never found or thoroughly tracked down.

Therefore, before any treatment is begun, the prime cause must be diligently sought and removed. Since the variations of this condition are so great there is no way that anyone can hazard a guess as to its progression.

Many cases of polyneuritis disappear as mysteriously and as suddenly as they occur. Others are treated with modern drugs in the hope that the condition is kept under control.

When you refer to "stress," it is always emotional stress.

Mr. T. M., New Mexico Many definitions of stress are taken from the medical and the layman's use of the word. The general concept of stress is one of pressure and strain due to physical or emotional circumstances.

There is another use of the word "stress" that is identified with a famous scientist, Dr. Hans Selye. For years, he has been studying and writing about the remarkable methods by which the body can adapt itself to the pressures made on it.

In fact, Dr. Selye uses the term "adaptation" extensively to describe the complex interplay between all the organs of the body to maintain health in the presence of stress.

The response of the body to extremes of heat and cold, to physical injury, to emotional distress, are all part of a protective mechanism for survival.

Stress probably short for "distress", has many facets in health and disease.

Should all fruits and vegetables be scrubbed? If so, does it destroy any of their nourishment?

Power Of The Sportsmen

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

How powerful are the sportsmen of America, the legion of those bronzed out-of-doors characters who like to hunt in the fall, do a little trapshooting in the spring, and compete in rifle and pistol shooting meets the year round? They may not be an overwhelming pressure group statistically, but they claim some extremely significant political kills in recent months. They take full credit for providing the margin that licked astronaut John Glenn, an exponent of gun legislation, in the Ohio Democratic Senatorial primary. And they will tell you that it was their crucial votes that made liberal Ralph Yarborough of Texas a lame duck Senator.

So it is no joke to Senator Joseph Tydings of Maryland that the gun enthusiasts of his state have organized something called CAT (Citizens Against Tydings), which hopes to retire him for having sponsored an extreme gun registration and licensing bill. There are variants of CAT all over the country. In Connecticut it is CAD (or Citizens Against Dodd), in Pennsylvania it is CAS (for Citizens Against Scott), in Montana it is CAM (Citizens Against Mansfield). Senator Scott has practically gone down on his knees to say he made a mistake in voting for gun control legislation in 1968, but it isn't doing him much good. The Pennsylvania sportsmen, who are numerous in the Appalachian back country, claim they beat Senator Joe Clark because of his gun stand, and they want to drive home the lesson by giving even so repentant a character as Hugh Scott a bit of a scare.

The populous State of Connecticut is not the best hunting territory in the country, but its gun enthusiasts have a special thing going for them. It so happens that Connecticut is the small arms and ammunition center of the U.S. The "big three" in Connecticut are Colt's Firearms in Hartford, the Winchester division of Olin Mathieson in New Haven, and Remington, du Pont subsidiary, in Bridgeport.

In addition to these, there are numerous smaller companies — High Standard, Marlin, Sturm, Ruger, Mossberg, and just over the state line in Springfield, Mass., there is Smith and Wesson. Together these companies employ a fairly big chunk of Connecticut labor, skilled workers who do not want to be done out of their jobs. So the economic issue combines with the social issue in Connecticut to make advocacy of strict gun legislation a hazard for the politician.

The Democrats are having had enough trouble in Connecticut this year because of party infighting. But their woes are complicated because all three candidates for U.S. Senator in the Democratic primary — millionaire

Alphonse Donahue, the Reverend Joe Duffey (national head of Americans for Democratic Action), and Edward Marcus — are, in varying degrees, not trusted by the gun lovers. Nor is Emilio Daddario, the Democratic candidate for Governor, who has sponsored gun legislation as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives. The gun people are, of course, very much against the present U.S. Senator, Tom Dodd, who is running as an independent. This tends to push them in the Republican embrace for the fall. Republican State Senator John Lupton, one primary candidate for the U.S. Senatorial slot, has always been the sportsmen's friend. The other Senatorial aspirant, Representative Lowell Weicker, has not been anti-gun, and Tom Meskill, the Republican organization's choice for Governor, is willing to listen to the sportsmen's story.

The gun people do not take any position as a group in the primaries. After all, they must preserve a certain maneuverability for the November finals. Nonetheless, their primary choice as individuals can seriously affect the November outcome. If John Lupton, a down-the-line Nixon man with a conservative record, should, by an odd chance, win the Senatorial primary against Weicker, who is sometimes for Nixon and sometimes against him, he would assuredly draw votes that would otherwise go to independent Tom Dodd, who thinks like Lupton on foreign policy matters even if he differs with him on firearms. So it is to Dodd's advantage to have Weicker win.

If ADA-er Joe Duffey is the Democratic Senatorial nominee, as seems possible, and Weicker goes for the Republicans, Dodd would receive some right-wing votes in addition to the hard hat labor votes that have always been in his corner. Weicker, an ingenious man who has had high visibility because of his freshman record in the House of Representatives, looks like the winning horse all the way through November, though the margin could be narrow enough to put the hunters, the trapshooters, and the employees of the small arms manufacturers in a position to dominate one more important election.

Turning streets in the business districts of cities into pedestrian malls isn't a 20th century idea. One of the first things Julius Caesar reportedly did when he became the boss of ancient Rome was to ban the daytime use of carts and chariots in the crowded center of the empire's capital.

Stealing, robbing and embezzling have become among America's most profitable industries. Property valued at more than $3.5 billion is now stolen each year—more than $9.5 million every day. Only about 50 per cent is recovered or, in the case of stolen automobiles, about 85 per cent.

Troubled waters: You're not safe on the highways and, if you're not careful, you aren't safe on the nation's busy waterways either. In lakes, rivers and coastal water last year, 4,067 boating accidents took 1,350 lives, caused 1,004 injuries and property losses of $6.37 million.

Hot enough for you? Well, last year in 140-mile-long Death Valley, Calif., which has a population of about 50, the air temperature rose above 100 degrees for 126 consecutive days. If you're the thirsty sort, some days there you can measure your consumption of water by the gallon.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The present state of the economy may be described in the conventional way, through statistics, or it can be shown by contrasting our ambitious goals with our inability to achieve them, our dollar wealth with our environmental poverty.

To put it in question form: Have the increases in incomes really permitted Americans to buy a better life? Has the quality of life improved to the same extent as the Gross National Product?

These are the statistics: —Gross National Product, the market value of the output of goods and services produced by the economy, rose to $931 billion in 1969 from $629 billion five years earlier.

—National income, the total earning of labor and property from the production of goods and services, rose to $770 billion in 1969 from $514 billion in 1964.

—Personal income, which is the total income received by persons from all sources, rose to $749 billion in 1969 from $495 billion in 1964.

—Disposable personal income, or the income remaining to persons after payment of personal taxes, jumped to $632 billion from $436 billion in 1964.

Those are the four major measures of production and income. Do they tell an accurate story? Or should the statistics be forgotten for the moment and the economy evaluated in more personal ways.

Hundreds of thousands of families, for example, have so benefited by steady jobs and rising wages that they have saved an amount that once would have served as the down payment on a house. Now they can't buy that house.

Interest rates and prices have soared, and larger down payments are required, forcing these families to remain where they are. To many people, good housing is unavailable at any price because the country is producing homes at a rate that satisfies only half the need.

Americans also have surrounded themselves with an incredible array of gadgets that allegedly simplify life, but often the owners learn that these devices complicate life instead, especially when they break down and cannot be serviced.

Dollar affluence has permitted hundreds of thousands of Americans to own two cars, but they have learned to their chagrin that in some areas government officials have permitted more registrations than there are legal parking spaces.

A feature of the economic expansion has been easy credit—consumer credit rose from $77 billion in 1964 to $122 billion in 1969—but that credit burden now harasses many of the people who accepted it.

Economic expansion has permitted millions of Americans to afford a college education denied to their parents, but many of the educational institutions now cannot afford students and are in financial distress.

The statistics and the dollar signs look impressive, even when the economy is badly inflated and battling a recession at the same time. But do the figures tell the story the way it should be told?

Rhodes Sets Austerity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes, who came into office on an austerity theme, plans to leave it the same way.

A spokesman said Tuesday Rhodes will order a freeze on state hiring, travel and other spending during the waning days of his term, which ends Jan. 11.

Rhodes plans to order the austerity steps after returning from the National Governors Conference at Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

James Duerk, an aide to the governor, said the order also will bar the purchase of non-essential supplies.

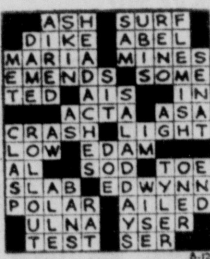

In addition, Rhodes will order that all state bills be paid so that the books will be clear on inauguration day, Duerk said.

Rhodes was barred by law from seeking a third term. He unsuccessfully sought the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate last May.

Robbing Taxpayers

Thefts of the American taxpayers' hard-earned tax dollars in the form of stolen aid shipments in foreign countries is not a new phenomenon. But it is one of the worst abuses of tax dollars, and one taxpayers have a right to demand be corrected.

Eighteen months ago a major scandal was unveiled in the Defense Department when it was revealed by a Navy fuel inspector that 52 per cent of all gasoline sent to Thailand has been stolen. A furor broke out in Congress and resulting investigations widely implied gasoline shipments to other points in Asia were being similarly mishandled.

Following a familiar pattern, the controversy died down before proof of corrective action was forthcoming. Now, two senators, Montoya and Proxmire, charge that safeguards which were supposed to be instituted last July 1 are not working and millions of dollars of petroleum products are still being stolen not only in Thailand, but in Taiwan, Vietnam, Laos, Okinawa and the Philippines.

There is a way this wholesale pilferage can be stopped, and that is for Congress to cut the appropriations for such shipments by the percentage independent investigators determine has been stolen. If the recipient countries have been able to get along on the depleted shipments there is no reason why the American taxpayer should be subsidizing black market operations in half of Asia.

Such a move would place the responsibility where it belongs — on the recipient to see the aid is used for the purpose intended.

Down The Hatch

A spate of new gastronomic records being set is worth noting only because of the sheer excess of it all.

A South African, who weighed 320 pounds before he began, has claimed a new world's record by eating 50 bananas in 10 minutes. This was followed by a Seattle fireman, who downed 154 clams in six minutes to win the honors in the "Put Up or Clam Up Far Western Classic."

Undaunted, an Irish steelworker chose another weapon for his new world's record by finishing off 23 bowls of porridge in 10 minutes. What could possibly follow these achievements except a couple gallons of bicarbonate of soda?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE OPPOSITION candidate concluded an intemperate and inept tirade with a bang of his fist on the lectern and a cry: "Are you going to take all this lying down?" "Not on your life," came a voice from the rear. "We've got shorthand reporters here for that."

A timely reminder from Norman Runyon in his book, "Up the Ivy Ladder": Although there will be hundreds of times when you will wish it were not so, a college cannot exist without students. This is sometimes unfortunate. Students get in the way of faculty research projects, and they sometimes interrupt the smooth functioning of the administration. As a result, proposals are often made to abolish students. One suggestion, which came from an administrator, was for students to mail in their four years of tuition in mid-September of their 18th year. They would receive by return post, a degree of their choice. A 15% premium would be charged for cum laude.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

What is responsible for a sudden inflammation of the nerves of the body in a healthy man of 45? It has been called "polyneuritis."

Mrs. Y. N., Ohio Dear Mrs. N.: Polyneuritis is a very complicated disorder that involves nerves in various parts of the body. It is so generalized that the symptoms vary extensively in severity.

As an illustration of how bizarre this condition is, I will name only a few of the possible causes: acute infectious diseases, poisons, chronic alcoholism, vitamin deficiencies, circulatory disorders, injuries, even severe intestinal disorders.

To make the problem even more complicated, polyneuritis may be the result of some factor which is never found or thoroughly tracked down.

Therefore, before any treatment is begun, the prime cause must be diligently sought and removed. Since the variations of this condition are so great there is no way that anyone can hazard a guess as to its progression.

Many cases of polyneuritis disappear as mysteriously and as suddenly as they occur. Others are treated with modern drugs in the hope that the condition is kept under control.

When you refer to "stress," it is always emotional stress?

Mr. T. M., New Mexico Many definitions of stress are taken from the medical and the layman's use of the word. The general concept of stress is one of pressure or strain due to physical or emotional circumstances.

There is another use of the word "stress" that is identified with a famous scientist, Dr. Hans Selye. For years, he has been studying and writing about the remarkable methods by which the body can adapt itself to the pressures made on it.

In fact, Dr. Selye uses the term "adaptation" extensively to describe the complex interplay between all the organs of the body to maintain health in the presence of stress.

The response of the body to extremes of heat and cold, to physical injury, to emotional distress, are all part of a protective mechanism for survival.

Stress probably short for "distress," has many facets in health and disease.

Should all fruits and vegetables be scrubbed? If so, does it destroy any of their nourishment?

Miss L. A. C., New York

Dear Miss C.: The widespread use of insecticides and pesticides must undoubtedly leave some remnants on the fruit and vegetables that are marketed to us. I believe it is indeed, a very wise precaution to thoroughly clean the outside surfaces and even remove them as a safety precaution. The vitamin value is hardly reduced by this extra precaution.

Crash reducing diets almost always end up as gains of weight.

Power Of The Sportsmen

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

How powerful are the sportsmen of America, the legion of those bronzed out-of-doors characters who like to hunt in the fall, do a little trapshooting in the spring, and compete in rifle and pistol shooting meets the year round? They may not be an overwhelming pressure group statistically, but they claim some extremely significant political kills in recent months. They take full credit for providing the margin that licked astronaut John Glenn, an exponent of gun legislation, in the Ohio Democratic Senatorial primary. And they will tell you that it was their crucial votes that made liberal Ralph Yarborough of Texas a lame-duck Senator.

So it is no joke to Senator Joseph Tydings of Maryland that the gun enthusiasts of his state have organized something called CAT (Citizens Against Tydings), which hopes to retire him for having sponsored an extreme gun registration and licensing bill. There are variants of CAT all over the country. In Connecticut it is CAD (or Citizens Against Dodd), in Pennsylvania it is CAS (for Citizens Against Scott), in Montana it is CAM (Citizens Against Mansfield). Senator Scott has practically gone down on his knees to say he made a mistake in voting for gun control legislation in 1968, but it isn't doing him much good. The Pennsylvania sportsmen, who are numerous in the Appalachian back country, claim they beat Senator Joe Clark because of his gun stand, and they want to drive home the lesson by giving even so repentant a character as Hugh Scott a bit of a scare.

The populous State of Connecticut is not the best hunting territory in the country, but its gun enthusiasts have a special claim going for them. It so happens that Connecticut is the small arms and ammunition center of the U.S. The "big three" in Connecticut are Colt's Firearms in Hartford, the Winchester division of Olin Mathieson in New Haven, and Remington, du Pont subsidiary, in Bridgeport.

In addition to these, there are numerous smaller companies — High Standard, Marlin, Sturm, Ruger, Mossberg. And just over the state line in Springfield, Mass., there is Smith and Wesson. Together these companies employ a fairly big chunk of Connecticut labor, skilled workers who do not want to be done out of their jobs. So the economic issue combines with the social issue in Connecticut to make advocacy of strict gun legislation a hazard for the politician.

The Democrats are having had enough trouble in Connecticut this year because of party infighting. But their woes are complicated because all three candidates for U.S. Senator in the Democratic primary — millionaire

Alphonse Donahue, the Reverend Joe Duffey (national head of Americans for Democratic Action), and Edward Marcus — are, in varying degrees, not trusted by the gun lovers. Variety Seafood Grill Unique Change Of Pace

By ALICE DENHOFF

The dog days of August to be sure, and so many of us are dog tired of all the salads and sandwiches, yes and even the barbecue dishes of summer. So perhaps it's time for a bit of change, maybe some seafood. What a nice refreshing idea! Why the very name suggests something different and delicious.

Something delicious is a grill made up of various seafoods including those itty bitty fishes that are seined from the cool, mineral-rich waters of the Norwegian fjords, then lightly smoked.

NORSE MIXED GRILL

2 (3 1/4 ounce) cans Norway sardines
4 small filets of lemon sole
3 jumbo shrimp
8 deep sea scallops
2 tomatoes, halved
4 mushroom heads
Olive oil
Bread crumbs
Parsley
Lemon wedges

Open and drain sardines. Roll sardines and next 4 ingredients in bread crumbs. Add the mushroom caps. Sprinkle with olive oil and broil until brown. Place on a serving plate with the sardines between 2 tomato halves at each end, filets in the center covered with the shrimp and scallops.

Top the tomato halves with the broiled mushroom heads. Sprinkle parsley butter over all and garnish with parsley and lemon.

If desired, serve with boiled potatoes and tartar sauce.

SERVES 2

Maybe it's a coolish day and you feel like something zesty, maybe this:

SARDINE NOODLE CASSEROLE

2 (3 1/4 ounce) cans Norway sardines
1/4 cup softened butter
6 hard-cooked eggs
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pinch pepper
Pinch curry powder
Pinch cayenne pepper
4 ounces noodles, cooked and drained
2 cups medium white sauce
Paprika
Toast points
Butter a 2-quart casserole and set aside. Cut peeled hard-cooked eggs in lengthwise halves; remove yolks. Mash yolks and add in order, softened butter, mayonnaise and seasonings. Drain sardines, reserving 12 whole sardines and mash. Blend into mixture. Fill egg whites with mixture and set aside. Place the cooked noodles in the casserole and arrange stuffed eggs on top.

Pour over white sauce. Bake in 325 degree F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes, until thoroughly heated.

Garnish with the whole sardines and sprinkle with paprika. Serve piping hot over toast points.

Makes 6 nice servings.
BROILED SARDINE SURPRISE

4 English muffins, split
2 (3 1/4 ounce) cans Norway sardines
2 tomatoes, halved
4 slices American cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

On top of each muffin half, broil the tomatoes. Garnish broiled tomato with 6 to 8 sardines. Top sardines with slice of cheese. Place in 350 degree F. oven for 15 minutes. Serve piping hot.

Pretty when garnished with sliced olives.

Serves 4 with a nice luncheon or supper number, or for a substantial snack.

Kent Prober Promises Good Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The special counsel named to direct a grand jury probe of the Kent State University disorders promised Tuesday to provide a thorough presentation of all evidences.

"If this grand jury is to have any purpose, it has to sift all the evidence with respect not only to student activities but to the activities of guardsmen," said Robert Balyeat of Lima.

The 41-year-old former Allen County prosecutor conferred Tuesday with Atty. Gen. Paul Brown and another special assistant, Seabury Ford of Ravenna.

They were to meet today with FBI agents and Justice Department officials to review the FBI's report on the spring disturbances.

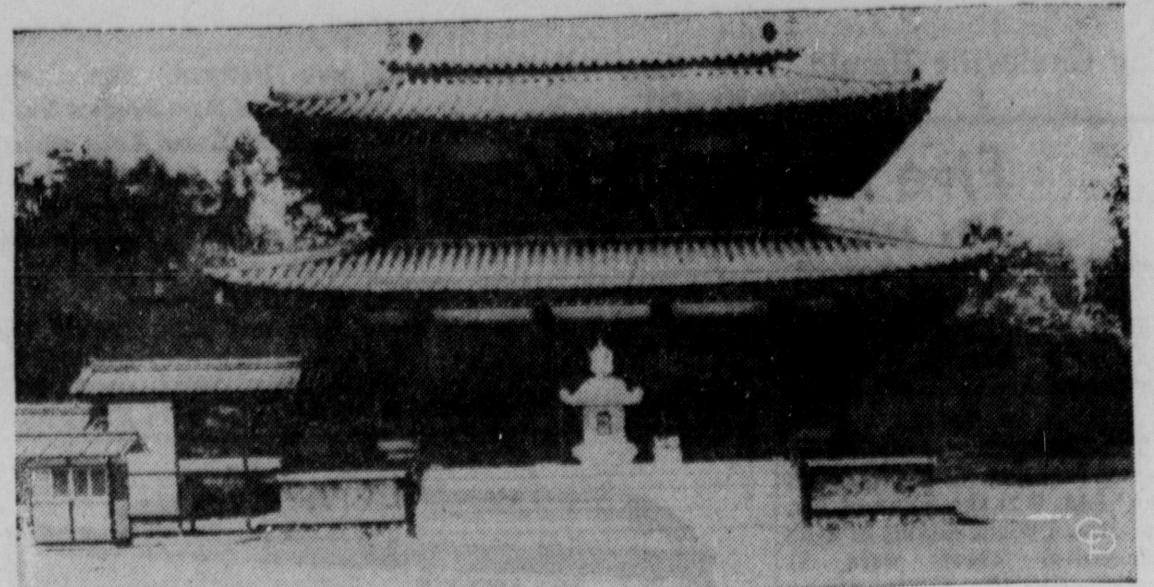

The state-ordered grand jury to investigate events before and during a student confrontation with National Guard troops May 4 which resulted in the fatal shooting of four students.

Balyeat said his team, which also includes attorney Perry Dickinson of Ravenna, will be ready to present evidence in about two and a half weeks.

"As we see it now," he added, it will take three or four weeks to present the evidence.

The grand jury will be impaneled in Ravenna, seat of Portage County, in which Kent is situated.

If you're cooking with milk, be sure to heat it at a low temperature, slowly, so it won't boil. A double-boiler can be a big help. At high temperatures, the protein in milk coagulates the sides of the pan. Casserole dishes should be cooked at low oven temperatures to avoid this.

Variety Seafood Grill Unique Change Of Pace

By ALICE DENHOFF

The dog days of August to be sure, and so many of us are dog tired of all the salads and sandwiches, yes and even the barbecue dishes of summer. So perhaps it's time for a bit of change, maybe some seafood. What a nice refreshing idea! Why the very name suggests something different and delicious.

Something delicious is a grill made up of various seafoods including those itty bitty fishes that are seined from the cool, mineral-rich waters of the Norwegian fjords, then lightly smoked.

NORSE MIXED GRILL

2 (3 3/4 ounce) cans Norway sardines
4 small filets of lemon sole
3 jumbo shrimp
8 deep sea scallops
2 tomatoes, halved
4 mushroom heads
Olive oil
Bread crumbs
Parsley
Lemon wedges

Open and drain sardines. Roll sardines and next 4 ingredients in bread crumbs. Add the mushroom caps.

Sprinkle with olive oil and broil until brown. Place on a serving plate with the sardines between 2 tomato halves at each end, filets in the center covered with the shrimp and scallops.

Top the tomato halves with the broiled mushroom heads. Sprinkle parsleyed butter over all and garnish with parsley and lemon.

If desired, serve with boiled potatoes and tartar sauce.

Serves 2

Maybe it's a coolish day and you feel like something zesty, maybe this:

SARDINE NOODLE CASSEROLE

2 (3 3/4 ounce) cans Norway sardines
1/4 cup softened butter
6 hard-cooked eggs
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pinch pepper
Pinch curry powder
Pinch cayenne pepper
4 ounces noodles, cooked and drained
2 cups medium white sauce
Paprika

Toast points
Butter a 2-quart casserole and set aside. Cut peeled hard-cooked eggs in lengthwise halves; remove yolks. Mash yolks and add in order, softened butter, mayonnaise and seasonings. Drain sardines, reserving 12 whole sardines and mash. Blend into mixture. Fill egg whites with mixture and set aside.

Place the cooked noodles in the casserole and arrange stuffed eggs on top.

Pour over white sauce. Bake in 325 degree F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes, until thoroughly heated.

Garnish with the whole sardines and sprinkle with paprika. Serve piping hot over toast points.

Makes 6 nice servings.
BROILED SARDINE SURPRISE

4 English muffins, split
2 (3 3/4 ounce) cans Norway sardines
2 tomatoes, halved
4 slices American cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

On top of each muffin half, broil the tomatoes. Garnish broiled tomato with 6 to 8 sardines. Top sardines with slice of cheese. Place in 350 degree F. oven for 15 minutes. Serve piping hot.

Pretty when garnished with sliced olives.
Serves 4 with a nice luncheon or supper number, or for a substantial snack.

Mr. And Mrs. Ballou Host Crusaders Class

Mr. Ballou presided over the business session and discussed projects to be completed in the near future.

Kent Prober Promises Good Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The special counsel named to direct a grand jury probe of the Kent State University disorders promised Tuesday to provide a thorough presentation of all evidence.

"If this grand jury is to have any purpose, it has to sift all the evidence with respect not only to student activities but to the activities of guardsmen," said Robert Balyeat of Lima.

The 41-year-old former Allen County prosecutor conferred Tuesday with Atty. Gen. Paul Brown and another special assistant, Seabury Ford of Ravenna.

They were to meet today with FBI agents and Justice Department officials to review the FBI's report on the spring disturbances.

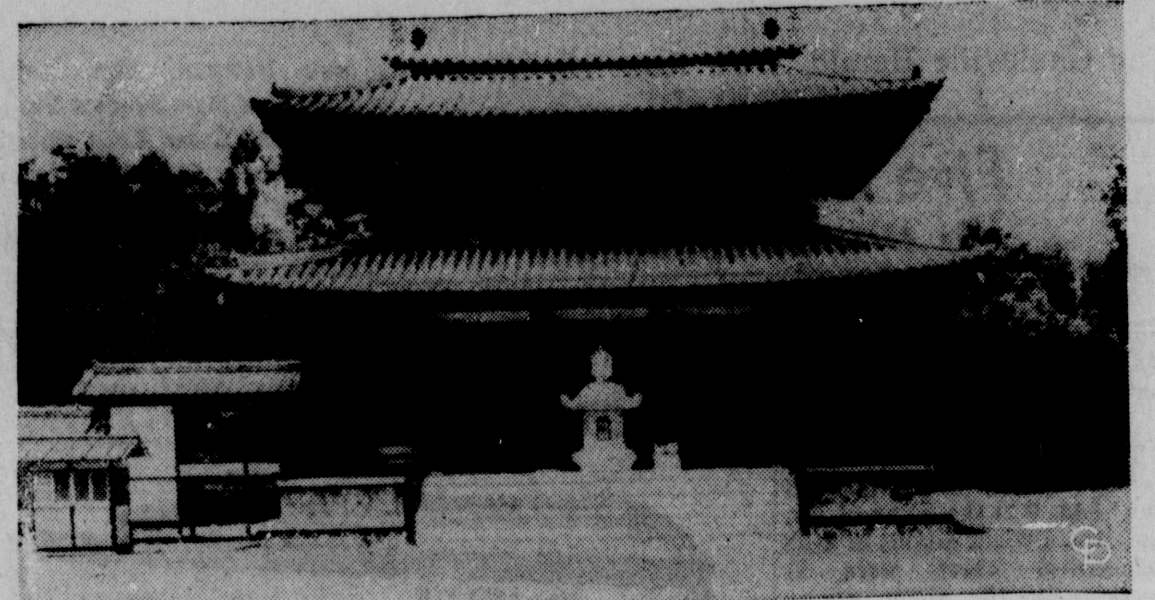

The state-ordered grand jury to investigate events before and during a student confrontation with National Guard troops May 4 which resulted in the fatal shooting of four students.

Balyeat said his team, which also includes attorney Percy Dickinson of Ravenna, will be ready to present evidence in about two and a half weeks.

"As we see it now," he added, it will take three or four weeks to present the evidence.

The grand jury will be impaneled in Ravenna, seat of Portage County, in which Kent is situated.

If you're cooking with milk, be sure to heat it at a low temperature, slowly, so it won't boil. A double-boiler can be a big help. At high temperatures, the protein in milk coagulates the sides of the pan. Casserole dishes should be cooked at low oven temperatures to avoid this.

Rain Hits New England And Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain swept the New England coast today and thundershowers splashed along the Gulf states. Showers also dampened parts of the northern Plains following nighttime thunderstorms that lashed sections of the Dakotas with hail and high winds.

The New England rains, locally heavy at times, fell out of a storm system that produced flooding downpours earlier in the week in the western Carolinas. Nearly an inch of rain drenched Boston before day-break.

Fair and mild or warm weather prevailed in most other areas of the nation.

Torrid temperatures continued to dominate interior portions of the West. Readings in the 90s or higher extended from the Southwest into the Dakotas, Montana and Idaho again Tuesday. The mercury hit 102 at Reno, Nev., to equal that city's record of eight days of 100 or above in a year.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 53 at Arcata, Calif., to 91 at Bakersfield, Calif.

Ohio Welfare Payments Said Lagging

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Welfare Department reports fail to tell the true state welfare story and read like the "Wonderful World of Ohio," a legislative committee was told Tuesday.

Dr. Leonard Schneiderman referred to a state-published magazine by that name in contending the department's annual reports do not explain why the state falls short of its own recommended payments.

The Ohio State University sociologist said the reports also fail to outline the needs and shortcomings of the department.

Schneiderman testified during a day-long hearing before the General Assembly's joint study committee on public assistance.

He called for restructuring and refinancing of the welfare system to prevent the continuance of poverty from one generation to another.

Statistics, he said, show that 75 per cent of the children on Aid to Dependent Children never finish high school. "They relieve the poverty of their parents."

Thanne Griffin, director of governmental relations for the Ohio Citizens' Council for Health and Welfare, said the state fails to provide assistance to the poor at the levels it sets as minimum standards.

Solons May Monitor College Administrations

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A special legislative committee to monitor university administrations was proposed Tuesday to a 15-member group winding up hearings on campus disorders.

The hearings, which began more than a month ago, end today.

Dr. John D. Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, said the internal operations of universities during a crisis now rest with their presidents and boards of trustees.

"I think they have learned a lot," Millett said of universities involved in the recent wave of campus upheaval.

"I think some kind of monitoring of progress on campus is what is needed at this time," he added. "I would not go beyond that at the present time."

Millett, as did Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, suggested the State Highway Patrol force be increased to provide more help in emergencies.

Millett said he felt the monitoring arrangement should go into effect this fall rather than next year. Del Corso said he expected more trouble on the campus when the fall term begins.

OHIO CASH GRAIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No 2 red wheat mostly unchanged 1.33-1.38, mostly 1.35-1.38; No 2 yellow corn mostly unchanged 1.24 - 1.30, mostly 1.27-1.29; No 2 oats unchanged to 1 lower .60-.68, mostly .65-.66; soybeans mostly 2 higher 2.63-2.74, mostly 2.67-2.72.

The committee on campus disorders, comprised of members of both houses of the legislature, will determine if a special session is needed to enact new laws. It would probably be called next month.

Rep. Richard G. Reichel, R-92 Massillon, said he thought campus security forces should be boosted with trained men rather than increase the number of highway patrolmen.

The Highway Patrol, he noted, is subsidized by the taxpayers. He said a $5 charge per quarter on each student would finance expanded campus security.

At Ohio State University, he said, it would provide for the hiring of 75 additional "college-trained" officers at a starting salary of $9,000 a year.

Reichel, who is not a member of the committee, authored the campus disorder bill that passed before the legislature adjourned. It provides for the immediate dismissal of students and professors convicted of campus rioting.

The bill, as written, would have provided for dismissal before conviction. The Senate amended it. Reichel said the earlier version would have permitted university administrations to remove troublemakers from the campus before the situation got out of hand.

Reichel also proposed that the salaries of professors be cut off

Blaze Destroys Sets For TV

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A three-alarm fire destroyed sets for the television series "The Partridge Family" and "Young Rebels" and badly damaged two others at Columbia Ranch Studio, officials said.

A studio spokesman said there was no immediate estimate of the loss Monday night when flames raged through the false-front structures. There were no injuries.

He said production of "The Partridge Family" and "Young Rebels," both planned for viewing this fall, will not be interrupted.

when a university is closed because of disorders. He said that would give professors an incentive to head off trouble.

Del Corso, at a closed-door morning session of the committee, suggested non-lethal weapons be supplied local law enforcement agencies in an effort to avoid fatalities such as those at Kent State University.

Four Kent State students were killed in a confrontation with national guardsmen May 4. A special grand jury, ordered by Gov. James A. Rhodes, will look into the incident.

Del Corso said the situation was usually out of control by the time guardsmen arrived on the scene. "We would prefer not to be called at all," he said.

Chancellors Get More Authority

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The chancellors of the six branches of the University of North Carolina will have more authority to deal with campus disruptions under a rewritten policy approved Monday by the executive committee of the university trustees.

It will be presented to the full board Oct. 26.

It permits suspension of anyone suspected of repeated disruptions and clarifies procedures for acting against disruption.

Daybook of America 1770-1870-1970

By CLARK KINNAIRD

No. 65 When patriots were roused in 1770 to throw off the yoke George III exerted more strongly in the 13 Colonies than in England itself, four other monarchies held sway within what is now the United States: French, Spanish, Russian, Hawaiian.

Louis XIV, under whom the French empire extended over most of North America above Mexico, was dead and his precepts had been neglected under his heir, a great-grandson. Canada was already under British sovereignty and formal transfer of Louisiana was being effected in 1770. A German-born princess ruled Russia and its foothold in America as Catherine II. Russians were extending posts down the Pacific coast into Upper California. Spanish sent soldiers and missionaries up from Mexico in 1769-70 to block the Russian advance.

The ruler of all the Southern continent except Brazil and a few islands, plus Florida, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, in 1770, was Charles III, of Bourbon lineage. He, like Catherine II and Louis XV, hoped George III's troubles with his colonies would advance his own interests against Britain.

Canada was already under British sovereignty and formal transfer of Louisiana was being effected in 1770. A German-born princess ruled Russia and its foothold in America as Catharine II. Russians were extending posts down the Pacific coast into Upper California. Spanish sent soldiers and missionaries up from Mexico in 1769-70 to block the Russian advance.

The ruler of all the Southern continent except Brazil and a few islands, plus Florida, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, in 1770, was Charles III, of Bourbon lineage. He, like Catherine II and Louis XV, hoped George III's troubles with his colonies would advance his own interests against Britain.

[—] Louis XIV. His "Memoires for the Instruction of the Dauphin," newly translated by Paul Sennine (Free Press-Macmillan, publisher), has instruction in management of diplomats, generals, wife, mistress.

Abolish FTC Retiring Member Says

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Retiring Federal Trade Commissioner Philip Elman called Tuesday for virtual abolition of his agency. He recommended splitting the FTC's functions between a single administrator, recallable by both the President and Congress, and a trade court.

Elman asserted the FTC, and other so-called independent regulatory agencies, are independent from all but the interests they regulate. As a result, the public is the loser, he said.

In addition, the combination of prosecutorial and judicial functions in a single agency usually make the outcome of a commission proceeding "a foregone conclusion," he contended.

"Without a doubt, the theory underlying the independent regulatory commission was original and brilliant," Elman told the antitrust section of the American Bar Association. "We must now look to experience more than theory."

Elman a veteran of 31 years in the federal government and an FTC member since 1953 recommended replacing the current five-member commission with a single administrator who would serve at the pleasure of the President Congress and would be removable by either.

Judicial functions, he said, should be given to a trade court, which could hold hearings in every state.

Coroner Rules Cincy Slayings 'Justifiable'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two recent fatal shootings here by private guards have been ruled justifiable homicides by the Hamilton County Coroner.

Dr. Frank Cleveland said Monday they were justifiable because "they occurred during legal action by police."

A Cincinnati man was fatally wounded Friday night at the Greyhound Bus Station after police said he aimed a gun at three bus drivers. Another Queen City resident was fatally shot at a food market Thursday night.

In another shooting incident, George Hines, 45, of Cincinnati has been charged with second-degree murder in the death of Canvester Dismukes, 41, Saturday night near the victim's home here.

Soviets Launch Another Cosmos

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched another unmanned Satellite in the Cosmos series Monday, Tass announced today.

The official news agency said Cosmos 356 carried scientific equipment which was working normally. The first Cosmos was launched March 16, 1962.

Believe Truck Broke Down Covered Bridge

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Summit County sheriff's deputies say a truck hauling a bulldozer apparently collapsed a section of the county's only covered bridge.

The truck was seen in the area about the time the bridge on Everett Road was damaged Monday evening.

The collapsed section is near the west end of the 100-foot long structure.

A 54-year-old Richfield man, William A. Garner, said his car almost went into Furnace Run Creek when he started to drive onto the bridge about 7:30 p.m. He said he stopped the car about three feet over the edge and estimated damage to the car at several hundred dollars.

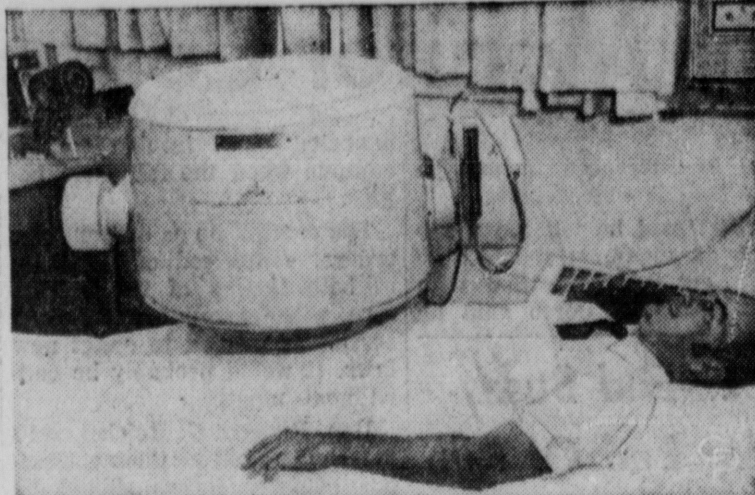

There was no word from county officials on plans for replacing the bridge, which was built around 1867.

The grade of poultry does not indicate how tender the bird is. Grade "A" on our chickens means that they are of highest quality, fully fleshed and meaty, well finished, attractive in appearance. Tenderness is determined by the age (class) of the chicken.

Young tender meat classes are most suitable for barbecuing, frying, broiling or roasting. Young chickens may be labeled young chicken, Rock Cornish game hen, broiler, fryer, roaster or capon.

Mature, less-tender meat classes may be preferred for stewing, baking, soups or salads. Mature chickens may be labeled mature chicken, hen, stewing chicken or fowl.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Natural Resources reports it is three months behind schedule in completing the lodge and cabins at the $10 million Salt Fork State Park development in Guernsey County north of Cambridge.

The department blames labor problems for delays in constructing the 148-room lodge and tourist cabin project, scheduled originally for completion next January.

Ohio Automobile Registrations 'Leveling Off'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor Roger Cloud reported Tuesday that Ohio passenger car registrations reflected a "leveling off" trend during the first five months of the registration year.

He said for the period ended July 31, total registrations were 5,895,353 — up 23,981. License revenues amounted to $103,516,926, for an increase of $2,306,789.

But the auditor noted that a breakdown of motor vehicle classifications showed total passenger car registrations of 4,645,486—a decline of 43,315 from the same period last year.

At the same time he reported increases in other classifications, motorcycles $5,738, up 12,870; house trailers 101,210, up 5,586; trailers 243,455, up 3,974; trucks 397,369, up 11,667 and farm trucks 139,021, up 2,175.

Labor Group Cut Back Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Alliance for Labor Action, born out of the late Walter Reuther's bitter fight with the AFL-CIO, has slashed its financing in half because of money troubles plaguing the United Auto Workers, informed sources confirmed Tuesday.

The cutback will reduce the alliance's annual income to some $2 million a year, sources said.

The organization was financed primarily by the Auto Workers, Teamsters and several smaller affiliates. Its purpose was to organize the unorganized and conduct social programs.

The decision to cut the unions' per capita monthly payments from 10 cents to 5 cents was made two weeks ago in Detroit and never publicly announced, sources added.

Reports of the UAW's financial squeeze surfaced after Reuther was killed last May in a plane crash.

Leonard Woodcock, who succeeded Reuther as president of the UAW, reportedly requested the cut. At the same time, Woodcock announced the layoff of some 175 Auto Workers employees and other budget cuts to help make up a reported $4 million deficit in the union's general fund.

Tractor Rescues Self From Fire

FRANKLIN, Ky. (AP) — A tractor rescued itself from a burning barn here when it backed through a closed barn door and away from the flames.

Firemen said heat from the blaze in the barn owned by Mrs. Susie Taylor caused a short in the tractor's wiring that activated the starter. The tractor gearshift was in reverse so the machine backed through the closed door and stopped when it hit a post outside.

The barn burned to the ground, but firemen said the tractor received only minor damage.

Many trips to Mexico (and to other foreign spots) are spoiled by the "turistas," also known as "Montezuma's Revenge," or "traveler's trots." The usual symptoms of this condition are diarrhea, vomiting and sometimes fever.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — During Martin Milner's 10 years on television, six have been behind the wheel of an automobile.

Milner guided a sports car through four hectic years of "Route 66." Most of the time, his partner in adventure was George Maharis.

When the series went into syndication, Milner moved on to motion pictures and some TV guest shots. Two years ago he climbed into the driver's seat again, this time as Officer Pete Malloy, shield 744, of "Adam 12." Jack Webb's tribute to patrol-car policemen with incidents adapted, as in "Dragnet," from the Los Angeles department's files.

"Adam 12"—radio identification of the squad car—now goes into its third season, with Milner happily adjusted to police procedures and still counting his blessings. The series may have two days of shooting on location for every one in the studio, but the locations are in Los Angeles. "Route 66," by contrast, was filmed entirely on location all over the United States.

Milner now is so securely blocked into Southern California and the five-day week that he recently acquired a 24-acre avocado farm just north of San Diego where he is building a new home for his family, which includes three children.

Where "Dragnet" concentrated on one crime from the call for detectives to solution, "Adam 12" purports to reflect the average day of a patrol car team. Milner and his partner, a probationer played by Kent McCord, are likely to handle in rapid succession incidents ranging from a quarrelsome couple to homicide.

"There is a real police officer assigned to the series—he's from the department's public information office," Milner said. "He checks scripts and action and is around to give us advice on handling situations. If we're rolling in on an armed robbery, for instance, he'll tell us how to disperse police personnel. Recently he showed us how to cuff two men together in a situation where we had only one set of handcuffs."

Milner and McCord now are skilled in the proper handling of evidence.

"We would never pick up a gun with a handkerchief," he said. "That might smudge any prints. We would pick it up by inserting a pencil in the barrel or by the trigger guard."

During the seasons when television was under heavy criticism for violence in entertainment shows, cops-and-robbers stories were out of favor with network programmers. In recent seasons, however, they have been making a come-back. When September premieres start, police-action will be one of the most popular categories in prime evening time.

Labor Group Cut Back Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Alliance for Labor Action, born out of the late Walter Reuther's bitter fight with the AFL-CIO, has slashed its financing in half because of money troubles plaguing the United Auto Workers, informed sources confirmed Tuesday.

The cutback will reduce the alliance's annual income to some $2 million a year, sources said.

The organization was financed primarily by the Auto Workers, Teamsters and several smaller affiliates. Its purpose was to organize the unorganized and conduct social programs.

The decision to cut the unions' per capita monthly payments from 10 cents to 5 cents was made two weeks ago in Detroit and never publicly announced, sources added.

Reports of the UAW's financial squeeze surfaced after Reuther was killed last May in a plane crash.

Leonard Woodcock, who succeeded Reuther as president of the UAW, reportedly requested the cut. At the same time, Woodcock announced the layoff of some 175 Auto Workers employees and other budget cuts to help make up a reported $4 million deficit in the union's general fund.

Tractor Rescues Self From Fire

FRANKLIN, Ky. (AP) — A tractor rescued itself from a burning barn here when it backed through a closed barn door and away from the flames.

Firemen said heat from the blaze in the barn owned by Mrs. Susie Taylor caused a short in the tractor's wiring that activated the starter. The tractor gear-shift was in reverse so the machine backed through the closed door and stopped when it hit a post outside.

The barn burned to the ground, but firemen said the tractor received only minor damage.

Many trips to Mexico (and to other foreign spots) are spoiled by the "turistas," also known as "Montezuma's Revenge," or "traveler's trots." The usual symptoms of this condition are diarrhea, vomiting and sometimes fever.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — During Martin Milner's 10 years on television, six have been behind the wheel of an automobile.

Milner guided a sports car through four hectic years of "Route 66." Most of the time, his partner in adventure was George Maharis.

When the series went into syndication, Milner moved on to motion pictures and some TV guest shots. Two years ago he climbed into the driver's seat again, this time as Officer Pete Malloy, shield 744, of "Adam 12." Jack Webb's tribute to patrol-car policemen with incidents adapted, as in "Dragnet," from the Los Angeles department's files.

"Adam 12"—radio identification of the squad car—now goes into its third season, with Milner happily adjusted to police procedures and still counting his blessings. The series may have two days of shooting on location for every one in the studio, but the locations are in Los Angeles. "Route 66," by contrast, was filmed entirely on location all over the United States.

Milner now is so securely blocked into Southern California and the five-day week that he recently acquired a 24-acre avocado farm just north of San Diego where he is building a new home for his family, which includes three children.

Where "Dragnet" concentrated on one crime from the call for detectives to solution, "Adam 12" purports to reflect the average day of a patrol car team. Milner and his partner, a probationer played by Kent McCord, are likely to handle in rapid succession incidents ranging from a quarreling couple to homicide.

"There is a real police officer assigned to the series—he's from the department's public information office," Milner said. The weather outside was warm and the atmosphere inside extremely warm when village council met in session last Monday (Aug. 3) night. Routine business of paying bills and the reading of the minutes passed rather uneventfully and then the moment came which the packed council quarters had awaited. Charges of non-feasance, mis-feasance and misconduct of office were read against the village marshal now to be referred to by law as the village police or patrolman. As village solicitor, Richard Penn, served in this capacity during the proceedings and the patrolman was represented by Richard Gerhardt, attorney-at-law.

After the usual questioning of witnesses and cross examination on both sides the council members were instructed as to the finer points to be considered and the subsequent actions that could be taken. A two-thirds vote was necessary to either find guilty as charged or delay any voting until another time.

Council members voting for the charges were Leroy Lane, Don Greene and Paul Bivens. Council members against were Luther Anderson, Earl Baker and Charles Wallace. Since the charges were brought by the mayor he could not vote and with the resulting tie vote the patrolman was acquitted of the charges and will continue to serve the village residents.

A motion was also put forth to effect a 30 day suspension but this, too, failed the required majority.

Those packing the council room to hear the proceedings were Johnny Martindale, Charles Hampton, Thurman Betts, Plin Morris, Dave Duvall, Jack Brayshaw, Dick Henson, Joe Whiteside, John Puffinbarger, Don Wing, Lonzie Riggsby, Bill Trapp, Jim Montgomery, Beeman Speakman, Paul Smith, Carl Morris, Harvey Looney, Mrs. Kendall Bryant and yours truly. And those on the outside peering in the window were John Drummond, Don Frazier, Joe Wright and Nick Stonerock and if anybody else, I didn't "spy" them.

After this portion of the meeting the council members were approached by Mr. Trapp to furnish a gas line to his tenant house. He was referred to the Board of Public Affairs. It was also emphatically stated that the cruiser does not need license plates as some wags around town are wont to proclaim and the mayor also pointed out that he had not been "picked up" for trying out the cruiser as seems to be the current tidbit. It does seem to this writer that if a person isn't willing to serve in a civic capacity and take a few of the lumps then that person shouldn't be so quick to pass out the lumps. It is never easy to serve the public and mistakes are bound to happen but who among us is perfect?

Chit, Chat
Popping in last Sunday for a "hello" was good friend Mrs. John (Mary Ellen) Hayman of Westerville, who is the long time buddy (since O.W.U. days) of Mary Alice Greenwood. M.A. was busy with the DECA food booth over at the fair so that's where they visited and then they all drove in to the Circleville Home and Hospital and chatted with Grandma Schleich (Mrs. Alice). Don and Ron Greenwood were helping mother but I think it was getting to be a bit much for Ron and he wasn't feeling too well — he was so nice to me!

Had a brief Howdy do and how are you with Jeanne (Mrs. Cooke) Metzger at the fair and I am pleased to report that she has recuperated from her recent surgery and is her own lovely self. The only dark note was the fact that she must return to the hospital for surgery on the other eye.

Darrell and Glenna Wisecup and Drew, Bob and Pat Metzger and Lori motored up to Grand Lake St. Mary's yonder weekend for a spot of water skiing and boating. The Metzgers housed with Bob's sister and husband, Kathryn and Marion Carter and their Diane and Barbara. The other Metzger offspring, Crystal had been visiting with the Carters. They all returned home on Sunday.

While in the area, the two couples crossed over the line into Indiana and partook of a smorgasbord dinner at one of the restaurants at Berne. This past week the Metzger household was enlivened with the joy of having Pat's niece Jody and nephews Keith and Scott James for a visit. They are former Williamsporters along with parents Ronnie and Sara Jane who now live in Dayton. The Wisecups dug that motel type living and had a super one.

It was a full house at Bill and Marcia Horch's this past week what with Marcia's two sisters and their spouses, children and surprise of surprises, also her mother, Randy and Pauline Widmer came in from Connecticut. Frank and Jean Nagle and their Carol Joan, Johanna and Joseph and mama Mrs. Phyllis (Robert) Spence drove in from Arlington, Mass. The sisters were expected but not mama so what a delight for granddaddies Kenny and Sheryl Horch.

Elinor Keller tells me her mother, Mrs. Elida Shelpman is a patient at Doctors Hospital. She also had the info that former area residents Paul and Bonnie Fels and family had breezed in from their Springfield, Mo. home for a few days visit. G-g-g spent lots of the time with the Kellers.

Doing the Cony Island scene over the weekend were Frank and Pat Henson and John and Sue Graffis. They took a spin on Sunday down to Lexington Ky., and environs. The Henson three, Janie, Ray and Mark stayed with their aunt and uncle, the Gene Hoovers and the Graffis three, Chuckie and "Littlejohn" were with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Graffis of Circleville and Teresa (without the h) slept over with good buddy Susie Welsh of Jackson Twp.

Lots has been written about the Pickaway County fair and I have just one more note. Our own Aunt Gladys Arledge (she is one of those dear people everybody calls aunt as a term of affection) attended her first Pickaway County fair and did she ever have a ball complete with a ride on the merry-go-round that she very neatly maneuvered me into taking with her!

Judy Wright spent a few days with her friend Sharon Kay Roseberry at Washington Court House and last week Sharon Kay was here at Judy's house guest. History repeating itself since back in her girlhood days Nellis (Judy's mother) and Sharon's mother were best friends.

Marion and Gretchen Steinhauser of Winter Haven, Fla., have been here for a visit with their mother, Mrs. Emma Puffinbarger and her sidekick Harry. As their across the alley neighbors we or rather father William gave them a real bang-up welcome (literally). He backed his welding truck out of the garage and smack into the Steinhausers car. Some days you can't win for losing, you know.

There was a big family shindig on Sunday but what with all the excitement today I didn't get the names of all who attended from Harry and Emma but will put that on the agenda for next week. Same goes for the birthday celebration planned Sunday for the twins, Margie Wright and Marie McGhee. When I printed their birthday last week a little gremlin got in the type as Marie's name came out Mare. She called me with a witty, saying she always knew she worked like a horse but had always thought she was a "deer." (and a dear she surely is).

Hear ye! Hear ye! all alumni of 1965 vintage, Westfall High School — a reunion is on the planning board with tentative plans calling for a late August date. If you have any suggestions or questions please do contact Linda Minor Diltz (Mrs. Robert) at 474-7905. I got this bit of information from Sarah (Mrs. Dan) Davis who along with hubby was here from their Piqua home Thursday to attend the fair and visit mom and dad, Margaret and Bob Barnes. Tom Barnes, by the way, had the grave misfortune to run a nail through his foot but reports are that he is improving. Like I always say, the worst possible things seem to happen to the very nicest people.

It was Sea World at Aurora and Cedar Point that turned on Charles and Ethel Galloway and their two charmers, Brenda and Dena this weekend. They made the trip with their friends Charles and Joan Savage of Circleville. Beautiful weather all the time they report.

Arthur (Bus) Whitten remains a patient at Riverside Methodist Hospital and Esther Bartholomew continues to recuperate at Berger Hospital. A card to each would be nice.

Joey Valone, son of Ray and Jean Valone returned home today (Monday) from a three-day stay at Children's Hospital where he underwent a number of tests and observation. He is feeling much better.

To the many concerned friends who have called and I've not been home — yes, we are still taking Amy to the doctor and no, we are not sure what the "bug" is that's causing the problem. Keep faith with us.

Marabel Drummond's mother, Mrs. Doynce (Kathleen) Bode of Adelphi was struck by a bicycle rider in front of her home on Saturday and suffered a badly broken right arm and was admitted to Berger Hospital.

What ho! Will wonders never cease, Pat (Mrs. Jack) Clark felt the urge the other day and cooked a big company type dinner, complete with company. Her guests were her brother, his wife and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Allen and Linda of Oakland, Calif., her mother, Mrs. C. C. Allen, her hubby Jack, sons Mike and Mark, daughter Dee Dee, son-in-law Gary Wisecup (his mate Sandy was bargain sleuthing). The John Allens are here visiting his parents the C. C. Allens, the first in six years.

Lowell and Sally Whitt and the three little Whitts of near Amherst were the guests of her mother, Juanita Cook and her better half A. J., and Shana Wills for several days last week.

Our Marc returned to the family fold last Thursday after a week's visit with relatives John and Norm Gillfillan and the three G's, Jo Lynn, Keith (Chip) and Norwood (Suds) of Troy. He made the trip with Grandma Mildred Hardman. Like I keep lamenting — it's pack and unpack suitcases this summer. So today our Becki was one of the excited members of the Westfall Band who embarked for a week's band camp training down by Canter's Caves. Two bus loads and several individuals transported the members and their luggage and of course their instruments. Wednesday evening is guest night and several of us plan to journey down and observe what has been learned — bandwise, that is.

Football practice is the big thing right now and Coach Vance has been giving his squad the old one two bright and early each day. Slight injuries have been sustained by Ron Greenwood (his knee) and Mike Martin (a wrist) but neither to the extent of keeping them away from practice. Word has it that basketball coach Jeff Bigam is letting no grass grow under his feet and has been having work-outs with potential members of the big five at Westfall gym.

Back at their daily labors are Kate Sollars and daughter Ettia Jo who managed to cover over 5,000 miles on their vacation trip that took them to Phoenix, Ariz. and a visit with Clifford and Tina Zimmerman Kronk (she is a sister to Grace Zimmerman, locally) on to Glendale, Ariz. and a visit with Robert and Virginia Emerick Warford (she is a Mt. Sterling product). There were Painted Desert, Petrified Forest, Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon, Las Vegas and the Bobbi Gentry show at the Landmark Tower, two days at Disneyland, Roy Rogers Museum at Apple Valley, Calif., Knotts Berry Farm, down the coast to San Diego and the awe inspiring ships anchored there, on to Tia Juana, Mexico and its delights, back across Southern Cal and into Arizona and an overnight with the Brooks again, up and off to El Paso, Tex., Old Abilene, Fort Worth, Juarez, Mexico across the Rio Grande and of course all the states from there to home.

Katie agrees with me, too. Cincy is the "worstest" and the Mississippi River "ain't" so big. Our own Scioto can give more thrills when it takes a notion.

It was a thrill to learn that Donnie Drummond, teen-age son of Paul and Louise Drummond has been selected to

Air Force Sergeant Claims Seized Guns Belong To Him

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 17-year Air Force veteran stationed at Lockbourne AFB has claimed he owns the guns, explosives and thousands of rounds of ammunition seized from Dr. Donald Plotnick in recent raids by federal agents.

Plotnick has been charged with selling firearms without a license.

His attorney, James Britt, said he had a sworn statement from M. Sgt. Willis John Rieker, 34, accepting full responsibility for ownership and sale of the weaponry.

Britt said Rieker asserts Plotnick was merely storing the arms for him.

Rieker reportedly is the non-commissioned officer in charge of Lockbourne's small marksmanship training unit.

The sergeant, a native of Yakima, Wash., could not be reached for comment. Capt. William H. Johnson, base information officer, said Rieker was hospitalized at the base "for observation."

Britt said Rieker, as range master, obtained the weaponry merely by signing for it.

Johnson said the Air Force has no indication that any munitions or weapons are missing, but added that an inventory is being made to make sure.

Undercover agents of the U.S. Treasury Department said they purchased two automatic carbines from Plotnick before raiding his home and office and arresting him July 31.

Agents also raided the homes of Russell L. Rowe in Columbus and Edgar H. Wright in Hebron and charged them with illegal sale. Their cases were not believed to be involved in the material seized from Plotnick.

Insurance Firm Given Deadline On Employment

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Western Southern Life Insurance Co. Tuesday gave Cincinnati until Oct. 1 to solve its problem with federal minority employment standards or the company will scrap plans for a $40 million block development in the downtown area.

The Housing and Urban Development Department froze $7 million in land acquisition funds preventing the city from selling the land to Western Southern. HUD also announced it will withhold $100 million in federal urban renewal construction funds unless more Negroes are put to work in the construction industry.

The city's program for apprentice job training for Negroes had been accepted by the Cincinnati Building Trades Council but only 12 of 22 individual unions have agreed.

The Western Southern program includes two 15-story office towers and a five-story office building.

Don won the honors this year as Ross County's healthiest boy. We will be rooting for you all the way, Don. He is the grandson of Mrs. Dorothy Clark and the late well-known local farmer, Clarence Clark. He is also the grandnephew of a very proud and rightfully so Aunt Mary Clark and Uncle Frank and several aunts in the Columbus area.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drummond of near Clarksburg are the paternal grandparents.

Where is the neatest place to hold a birthday party? Well, when it is fair time and everyone is there why not? And if it is a 4-H Horse Club well why not at the horse barns? So, O.K. that's just where a surprise party was held for Debbie Thompson last Tuesday. Mrs. Elizabeth Zimmerman and her Leslie, Debbie and Wanda Zaenglein, Vicki and Shirley Thompson decorated the barns with all the birthday trimmings. Mrs. Z. and mother of Debbie, Dolly Thompson supplied the cake, iced tea, punch and all the ingredients for a swinging fifteenth birthday. The guest list was any "kid" around and specifically the Westfall Wranglers.

Threaten To Kill 2 Other Hostages In Montevideo

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — An American agronomist and a Brazilian diplomat held prisoner by leftist guerrillas are well, the rebels said Tuesday night. But the kidnappers said they would kill the captives if police and army searchers found them.

"Sentence still has not been passed" on Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., and Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41, said the Tupamaro guerrillas in a communique left in a restaurant. It added: "The comrades who are guarding the arrested diplomats have definite orders to execute them if repressive forces arrive."

There was no indication of any easing of the search some 5,000 police and soldiers have been making.

The Tupamaros carried out an execution threat on Monday when they murdered Dan A. Mitrone, 50, of Richmond, Ind., after the government rejected the rebels' demand for release of an estimated 150 prisoners.

Mitrone, an adviser to the Uruguayan police, and Dias Gomide were kidnapped separately July 31. Fly, an adviser to the Agriculture Ministry, was abducted last Friday after President Jorge Pacheco Areco refused to negotiate with the Tupamaros.

Hand-written notes from Fly and Dias Gomide to their wives were found with the communique.

Police said the communique and the notes were authentic.

About 20 Tupamaros have been arrested during police sweeps since the abductions, and the rebel communique warned: "The oligarchs of the government . . . the repressive forces and the U.S. advisers will answer" if any harm comes to those arrested. They include some of the organization's top leaders.

Meanwhile, there was considerable local uneasiness over reports of Brazilian military measures along the border. One newspaper announced in large black type that Brazil had moved "parachute troops to the border." Newspapers in Brazil said military patrols along the border were being strengthened to prevent any Tupamaros from crossing into Brazil.

The Brazilian government in a note Monday night urged the Uruguayan government to meet the rebels' ransom demand. Brazil has exchanged political prisoners on three occasions for diplomats kidnapped by terrorist organizations. But Pacheco Areco says the prisoners demanded by the Tupamaros are common criminals, not political prisoners as the rebels claim.

A two-thirds vote was necessary to either find guilty as charged or delay any voting until another time.

Council members voting for the charges were Leroy Lane, Don Greene and Paul Bivens. Council members against were Luther Anderson, Earl Baker and Charles Wallace. Since the charges were brought by the mayor he could not vote and with the resulting tie vote the patrolman was acquitted of the charges and will continue to serve the village residents.

A motion was also put forth to effect a 30 day suspension but this, too, failed the required majority.

Those packing the council room to hear the proceedings were Johnny Martindale, Charles Hampton, Thurman Betts, Phil Morris, Dave Duvall, Jack Brayshaw, Dick Henson, Joe Whitesed, John Puffinbarger, Don Wing, Lonzie Rigby, Bill Trapp, Jim Montgomery, Beeman Speakman, Paul Smith, Carl Morris, Harvey Looney, Mrs. Kendall Bryant and yours truly. And those on the outside peering in the window were John Drummond, Don Frazier, Joe Wright and Nick Stonerock and if anybody else, I didn't "spy" them.

After this portion of the meeting the council members were approached by Mr. Trapp to furnish a gas line to his tenant house. He was referred to the Board of Public Affairs. It was also emphatically stated that the cruiser does not need around town are wont to proclaim and the mayor also pointed out that he had not been "picked up" for trying out the cruiser as seems to be the current tidbit. It does seem to this writer that if a person isn't willing to serve in a civic capacity and take a few of the lumps then that person shouldn't be so quick to pass out the lumps. It is never easy to serve the public and mistakes are bound to happen but who among us is perfect?

Chit, Chat
Popping in last Sunday for a "hello" was good friend Mrs. John (Mary Ellen) Hayman of Westerville, who is the long time buddy (since O.W.U. days) of Mary Alice Greenwood, M.A. was busy with the DECA food booth over at the fair so that's where they visited and then they all drove in to the Circleville Home and Hospital and chatted with Grandma Schleich (Mrs. Alice). Don and Ron Greenwood were helping mother but I think it was getting to be a bit much for Ron and he wasn't feeling too well — he was so nice to me!

Had a brief Howdy do and how are you with Jeanne (Mrs. Cooke) Metzger at the fair and I am pleased to report that she has recuperated from her recent surgery and is her own lovely self. The only dark note was the fact that she must return to the hospital for surgery on the other eye.

Darrell and Glenna Wisecup and Drew, Bob and Pat Metzger and Lori motored up to Grand Lake St. Mary's yonder weekend for a spot of water skiing and boating. The Metzgers housed with Bob's sister and husband, Kathryn and Marion Carter and their Diane and Barbara. The other Metzger offspring, Crystal had been visiting with the Carters. They all returned home on Sunday.

While in the area, the two couples crossed over the line into Indiana and partook of a smorgasbord dinner at one of the restaurants at Berne.

This past week the Metzger household was enlivened with the joy of having Pat's niece Jody and nephews Keith and Scott James for a visit. They are former Williamsporters along with parents Ronnie and Sara Jane who now live in Dayton. The Wisecups dug that motel type living and had a super one.

It was a full house at Bill and Marcia Horch's this past week what with Marcia's two sisters and their spouses, children and surprise of surprise, also her mother, Randy and Pauline Widmer came in from Connecticut. Frank and Jean Nagle and their Carol Joan, Johanna and Joseph and mama Mrs. Phyllis (Robert) Spence drove in from Arlington, Mass. The sisters were expected but not mama so what a delight for granddaddies Kenny and Sheryl Horch.

Elinor Keller tells me her mother, Mrs. Elida Shelpman is a patient at Doctors Hospital. She also had the info that former area residents Paul and Bonnie Fels and family had breezed in from their Springfield, Mo. home for a few days visit. Greg spent lots of the time with the Kellers.

Doing the Cony Island scene over the weekend were Frank and Pat Henson and John and Sue Graffis. They took a spin on Sunday down to Lexington Ky., and environs. The Henson three, Janie, Ray and Mark stayed with their aunt and uncle, the Gene Hoovers and the Graffis three, Chuckie and "Littlejohn" were with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Graffis of Circleville and Teresa (without the h) slept over with good buddy Susie Welsh of Jackson Twp.

Lots has been written about the Pickaway County fair and I have just one more note. Our own Aunt Gladys Arledge (she is one of those dear people everybody calls aunt as a term of affection) attended her first Pickaway County fair and did she ever have a ball complete with a ride on the merry-go-round that she very neatly maneuvered me into taking with her!

Judy Wright spent a few days with her friend Sharon Kay Roseberry at Washington Court House and last week Sharon Kay was here as Judy's house guest. History repeating itself since back in her girlhood days Nellis (Judy's mother) and Sharon's mother were best friends.

Marion and Gretchen Steinhauer of Winter Haven, Fla., have been here for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Emma Puffinbarger and her sidekick Harry. As their across the alley neighbors we or rather father William gave them a real bang-up welcome (literally). He backed his welding truck out of the garage and smack into the Steinhauers car. Some days you can't win for losing, you know.

There was a big family shindig on Sunday but what with all the excitement today I didn't get the names of all who attended from Harry and Emma but will put that on the agenda for next week. Same goes for the birthday celebration planned Sunday for the twins, Margie Wright and Marie McGhee. When I printed their birthday last week a little gremlin got in the type as they sometimes will and Marie's name came out Mare. She called me with a witty, saying she always knew she worked like a horse but had always thought she was a "deer." (and a dear she surely is).

Hear ye! Hear ye! all alumni of 1965 vintage, Westfall High School — a reunion is on the planning board with tentative plans calling for a late August date. If you have any suggestions or questions please do contact Linda Minor Diltz (Mrs. Robert) at 474-7905. I got this bit of information from Sarah (Mrs. Dan) Davis who along with hubby was here from their Piqua home Thursday to attend the fair and visit mom and dad, Margaret and Bob Barnes. Tom Barnes, by the way, had the grave misfortune to run a nail through his foot but reports are that he is improving. Like I always say, the worst possible things seem to happen to the very nicest people.

It was Sea World at Aurora and Cedar Point that turned on Charles and Ethel Galloway and their two charmers, Brenda and Dena this weekend. They made the trip with their friends Charles and Joan Savage of Circleville. Beautiful weather all the time they report.

Arthur (Bus) Whitten remains a patient at Riverside Methodist Hospital and Esther Bartholomew continues to recuperate at Berger Hospital. A card to each would be nice.

Joey Valone, son of Ray and Jean Valone returned home today (Monday) from a three-day stay at Children's Hospital where he underwent a number of tests and observation. He is feeling much better.

To the many concerned friends who have called and I've not been home — yes, we are still taking Amy to the doctor and no, we are not sure what the "bug" is that's causing the problem. Keep faith with us.

Marabel Drummond's mother, Mrs. Doynne (Kathleen) Bode of Adelphi was struck by a bicycle rider in front of her home on Saturday and suffered a badly broken right arm and was admitted to Berger Hospital.

What ho! Will wonders never cease, Pat (Mrs. Jack) Clark felt the urge the other day and cooked a big company type dinner, complete with company. Her guests were her brother, his wife and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Allen and Linda of Oakland, Calif., her mother, Mrs. C. C. Allen, her hubby Jack, sons Mike and Mark, daughter Dee Dee, son-in-law Gary Wisecup (his mate Sandy was bargain sleuthing). The John Allens are here visiting his parents the C. C. Allens, the first in six years.

Lowell and Sally Whitt and the three little Whitts of near Amherst were the guests of her mother, Juanita Cook and her better half A. J., and Shana Wills for several days last week.

Our Marc returned to the family fold last Thursday after a week's visit with relatives John and Norm Gillfillan and the three G's, Jo Lynn, Keith (Chip) and Norwood (Suds) of Troy. He made the trip with Grandma Mildred Hardman. Like I keep lamenting — it's pack and unpack suitcases this summer. So today our Becki was one of the excited members of the Westfall Band who embarked for a week's band camp training down by Canter's Caves. Two bus loads and several individuals transported the members and their luggage and of course their instruments. Wednesday evening is guest night and several of us plan to journey down and observe what has been learned — bandwise, that is.

Football practice is the big thing right now and Coach Vance has been giving his squad the old one two bright and early each day. Slight injuries have been sustained by Ron Greenwood (his knee) and Mike Martin (a wrist) but neither to the extent of keeping them away from practice. Word has it that basketball coach Jeff Bigam is letting no grass grow under his feet and has been having work-outs with potential members of the big five at Westfall gym.

Back at their daily labors are Kate Sollars and daughter Ettia Jo who managed to cover over 5,000 miles on their vacation trip that took them to Phoenix, Ariz. and a visit with Clifford and Tina Zimmerman Kronk (she is a sister to Grace Zimmerman, locally) on to Glen Dale, Ariz. and a visit with Robert and Virginia Emerick Warford (she is a Mt. Sterling product). There were Painted Desert, Petrified Forest, Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon, Las Vegas and the Bobbi Gentry show at the Landmark Tower, two days at Disneyland, Roy Rogers Museum at Apple Valley, Calif., Knotts Berry Farm, down the coast to San Diego and the awe inspiring ships anchored there, on to Tia Juana, Mexico and its delights, back across Southern Cal and into Arizona and an overnight with the Brooks again, up and off to El Paso, Tex., Old Abilene, Fort Worth, Juarez, Mexico across the Rio Grande and of course all the states from there to home.

Katie agrees with me, too, Cindy is the "worstest" and the Mississippi River "ain't" so big. Our own Scioto can give more thrills when it takes a notion.

It was a thrill to learn that Donnie Drummond, teen-age son of Paul and Louise Drummond has been selected to

Air Force Sergeant Claims Seized Guns Belong To Him

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 17-year Air Force veteran stationed at Lockbourne AFB has claimed he owns the guns, explosives and thousands of rounds of ammunition seized from Dr. Donald Plotnick in recent raids by federal agents.

Plotnick has been charged with selling firearms without a license.

His attorney, James Britt, said he had a sworn statement from M. Sgt. Willis John Rieker, 34, accepting full responsibility for ownership and sale of the weaponry.

Britt said Rieker asserts Plotnick was merely storing the arms for him.

Rieker reportedly is the non-commissioned officer in charge of Lockbourne's small marksmanship training unit.

The sergeant, a native of Yakima, Wash., could not be reached for comment. Capt. William H. Johnson, base information officer, said Rieker was hospitalized at the base "for observation."

Britt said Rieker, as range master, obtained the weaponry merely by signing for it.

Johnson said the Air Force has no indication that any munitions or weapons are missing, but added that an inventory is being made to make sure.

Undercover agents of the U.S. Treasury Department said they purchased two automatic carbines from Plotnick before raiding his home and office and arresting him July 31.

Agents also raided the homes of Russell L. Rowe in Columbus and Edgar H. Wright in Hebron and charged them with illegal sale. Their cases were not believed to be involved in the material seized from Plotnick.

Insurance Firm Given Deadline On Employment

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Western Southern Life Insurance Co. Tuesday gave Cincinnati until Oct. 1 to solve its problem with federal minority employment standards or the company will scrap plans for a $40 million block development in the downtown area.

The Housing and Urban Development Department froze $7 million in land acquisition funds preventing the city from selling the land to Western Southern. HUD also announced it will withhold $100 million in federal urban renewal construction funds unless more Negroes are put to work in the construction industry.

The city's program for apprentice job training for Negroes had been accepted by the Cincinnati Building Trades Council but only 12 of 22 individual unions have agreed.

The Western Southern program includes two 15-story office towers and a five-story office building.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drummond of near Clarksville are the paternal grandparents.

Where is the neatest place to hold a birthday party? Well, when it is fair time and everyone is there why not? And if it is a 4-H Horse Club well why not at the horse barns? So, O.K. that's just where a surprise party was held for Debbie Thompson last Tuesday. Mrs. Elizabeth Zimmerman and her Leslie, Debbie and Wanda Zaenglein, Vicki and Shirley Thompson decorated the barn with all the birthday trimmings. Mrs. Z. and mother of Debbie, Dolly Thompson supplied the cake, iced tea, punch and all the ingredients for a swinging fifteenth birthday. The guest list was any "kid" around and specifically the Westfall Wranglers.

Threaten To Kill 2 Other Hostages In Montevideo

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — An American agronomist and a Brazilian diplomat held prisoner by leftist guerrillas as well, the rebels said Tuesday night. But the kidnappers said they would kill the captives if police and army searchers found them.

"Sentence still has not been passed" on Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., and Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41, said the Tupamaro guerrillas in a communique left in a restaurant. It added: "The comrades who are guarding the arrested diplomats have definite orders to execute them if repressive forces arrive."

There was no indication of any easing of the search some 5,000 police and soldiers have been making.

The Tupamaros carried out an execution threat on Monday when they murdered Dan A. Mittrione, 50, of Richmond, Ind., after the government rejected the rebels' demand for release of an estimated 150 prisoners.

Mittrione, an adviser to the Uruguayan police, and Dias Gomide were kidnapped separately July 31. Fly, an adviser to the Agriculture Ministry, was abducted last Friday after President Jorge Pacheco Areco refused to negotiate with the Tupamaros.

Hand-written notes from Fly and Dias Gomide to their wives were found with the communique.

Police said the communique and the notes were authentic. About 20 Tupamaros have been arrested during police sweeps since the abduction, and the rebel communique warned: "The oligarchs of the government . . . the repressive forces and the U.S. advisers will answer" if any harm comes to those arrested. They include some of the organization's top leaders.

Meanwhile, there was considerable local uneasiness over reports of Brazilian military measures along the border. One newspaper announced in large black type that Brazil had moved "parachute troops to the border." Newspapers in Brazil said military patrols along the border were being strengthened to prevent any Tupamaros from crossing into Brazil.

The Brazilian government in a note Monday night urged the Uruguayan government to meet the rebels' ransom demand. Brazil has exchanged political prisoners on three occasions for diplomats kidnapped by terrorist organizations. But Pacheco Areco says the prisoners demanded by the Tupamaros are common criminals, not political prisoners as the rebels claim.

Lima Lifts Restrictions

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The last of emergency restrictions imposed during racial rioting here last week was lifted Tuesday.

Mayor Christian P. Morris rescinded a state of emergency proclamation that prohibited the carrying of any weapons and the sale of firearms and gasoline in cans.

Officials expressed hope that this industrial city of 53,000 now would return to normal and there would be no more incidents.

Black militants continued, meanwhile, to circulate petitions demanding the dismissal of two policemen involved in fatal shooting of Christine Ricks, 45, last Wednesday.

That incident triggered two nights of rioting, firebombings and sniping that prompted Morris take emergency measures and request National Guard troops.

An overnight curfew imposed by Morris was lifted Saturday and National Guardsmen were withdrawn Monday.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

His 'Chaste' Ideas Are Unforgivable

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and my fiancé is 26. Ernie is very quiet, but he is not dumb. In fact he went all through college on scholarships and has the I. Q. of a genius. Ernie says I'm the first girl he's ever been in love with and I'm sure it's true because I had to teach him how to kiss which I didn't mind because he caught on real fast.

I am a virgin and Ernie wants me to stay that way until we get married in December so he made a regular chastity belt out of leather and metal, like they used to wear back in the days of the Crusades. He did a lot of research on it. He says it's not that he doesn't trust me, but with the new morality making sex so casual these days he doesn't want to take any chances. Also he says there are a lot of hopped up crazy fellows running around nowadays and he wants me to be protected against rapists. There is only one key to this thing and he will carry it.

Abby, I don't date anyone but Ernie and have no desire to. Also, I am not afraid of rapists. Should I wear this contraption as a favor to Ernie? He says if I really love him, I will.

ERNE'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: Tell your "genius" that when HE fashions a chastity belt for HIMSELF and gives YOU the case key, you will wear one. You didn't say whether Ernie expects you to wear this harness HERO DOG — A dog food maker's gold medal as Hero Dog of the Year goes to Grizzly Bear, 180-pound St. Bernard, shown with owner Mrs. David Grattias, 24, in Denali, Alaska. She was attacked and being mauled by a grizzly bear in her yard and the dog jumped on the bear and drove it away from her, then maneuvered to keep itself between the bear and the prostrate woman. Finally the bear gave up and disappeared into the woods. The St. Bernard's award ceremony is set for Aug. 19 in Philadelphia.

after you're married, but if I peg this ding-a-ling right, if you agree to wear it at all, it will become a part of your permanent attire.

DEAR ABBY: An otherwise charming woman I know always arrives 45 minutes to an hour late for dinner. She always sails in radiant and well pleased with herself in spite of the fact that she has ruined a meal that took much time and money to prepare. She claims she is not "geared" to look at a clock, but on those occasions when it is important to HER to be on time, she can do it.

I claim she is chronically late because it makes her feel "important" to keep everyone waiting, and to make a grand entrance. What do you think?

A VALLEYITE
DEAR VALLEYITE: If your chronically late friend actually keeps everyone waiting, and causes them to partake of "ruined" meals, then she MUST be "important." A habitual late arriver could be taught a lesson if her "grand entrance" is ignored, and all the guests are busily engrossed in their desserts.

DEAR ABBY: I have a boy friend I like a lot, but he does something that really bugs me. When we have a date, after he brings me home (about midnight) he goes out and stops at different hangouts around town to have a beer with some of the kids. He doesn't sneak about it, he tells me afterwards where he went and whom he talked to. Sometimes he stays out until two or three in the morning.

I think it's dirty of a guy to take a date home and then go out by himself, even though our date is over. Please tell me what you think, Abby? If I'm wrong, I'll get off his back about it.

BUGGED
DEAR BUG: As long as your boy friend doesn't rush you home in order to make the rounds of the hangouts without you, you have no reason to complain. And if you like being his "girl friend," my advice to you is to get off his back or he may get the idea that you are too possessive and a bit bossy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GORDY: Don't marry for money. You can borrow it much cheaper.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Demos Seek Opponent For Nixon

LAKE OF THE OZARKS, Mo. (AP) — Democratic governors have been urged to launch a political talent hunt after the 1970 elections, looking for a new White House contender to challenge President Nixon in 1972.

Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina made the proposal, saying no one now rated among potential Democratic presidential nominees gives evidence of the kind of support it would take to defeat Nixon.

"I think we have an opportunity in 1972, but in my judgment, we're defaulting," McNair said.

The Democrats talk politics today with Lawrence F. O'Brien, the party's national chairman. A prime concern: the effort to enlarge their ranks among governors. Currently only 18 states are governed by Democrats, and Republicans are in charge in all the major industrial states.

The 62nd National Governors Conference was at work on an agenda seeking vast new federal programs of aid to education, welfare financing and national health insurance.

Those proposals were in policy statements drafted by a committee led by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. He acknowledged that, if adopted, they would require a substantial increase in federal taxes.

Sen. Young Wants Nerve Gas Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring that the nerve gas being shipped for dumping in the ocean represents only one-ninth of supplies, Sen. Stephen M. Young has called for a congressional probe to determine what gases the Pentagon has on hand.

The Ohio Democrat contended in a Senate speech the Defense Department maintains huge amounts of nerve gas for possible use in putting down riots and for possible use in warfare.

Final Honors Prepared For Slain Police Expert

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—In the quiet and dignity of a military reception for a fallen hero, the body of Dan Anthony Mitrione, U.S. police advisor killed in Uruguay, was brought home today for burial.

His widow and nine children accompanied the body aboard an Air Force jet to a municipal airport here where they were met by relatives, friends and officials from Mitrione's hometown of Richmond, Ind.

A 48-man U.S. Air Force detail and a nine-man Navy unit provided an honor guard, pall bearers and color guard as Mitrione's casket, encased in a wooden box, was moved from the plane to a hearse from Richmond.

Mitrione, 50, a Navy veteran, was found slain in Montevideo Monday, 10 days after he and two other officials were kidnapped by guerrillas.

Mitrione's widow, Henrietta, wept quietly as she embraced her husband's two brothers, Dominic and Ray, and other relatives on hand when the plane landed. No family member would make any comment.

The widow and her children, ranging from four years to 26 years, stood near the honor guard as Air Force pall bearers moved the casket about 100 yards from the plane to a hearse.

Burdette Orr, member of a Richmond funeral home and the hearse driver, was a 1939 classmate of the victim when they were graduated from Morton High School at Richmond.

"He was just a tremendous person that everybody loved," said Richmond Mayor Byron Klute. "He was a dedicated police officer."

Mitrione served as police chief at Richmond for five years and left that job in 1957 to go with a federal agency. He had worked in Brazil and in Washington before taking the assignment as police advisor in Montevideo.

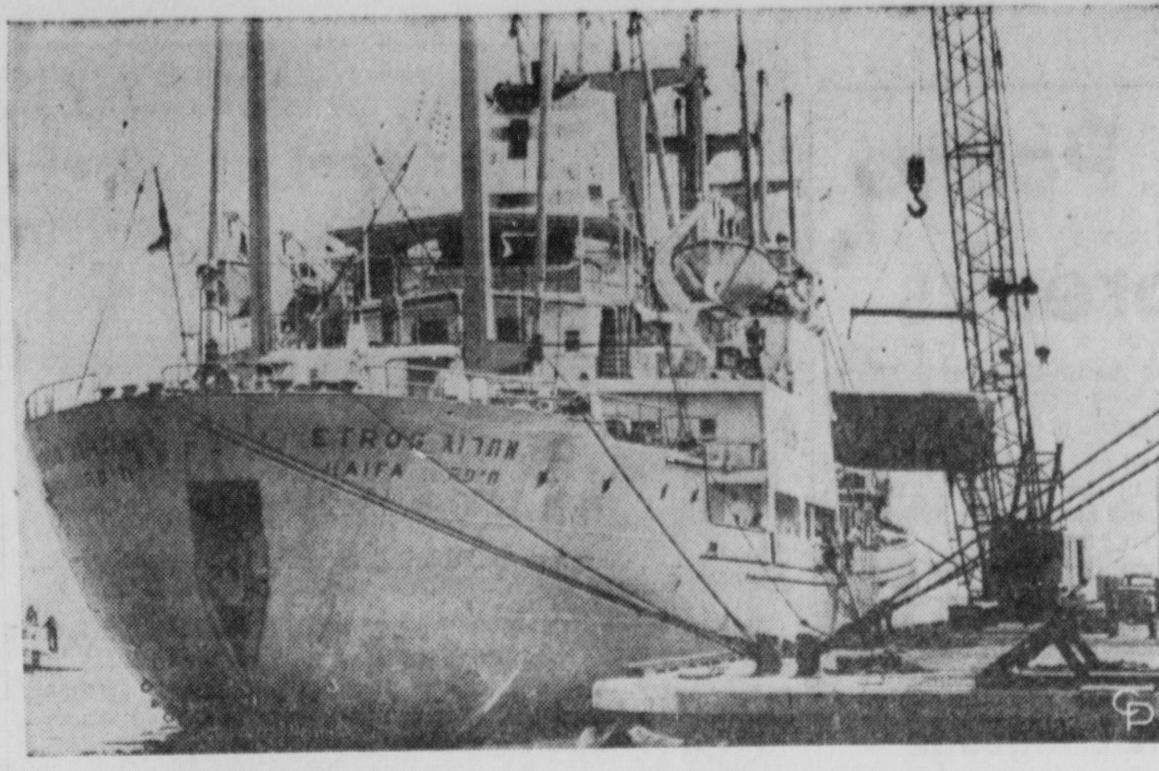

Mitrione was a native of Italy but his family brought him to the United States in 1920 when he was one year old.

After the casket was put in the hearse the widow got into one of eight cars forming an entourage for the 30 mile drive to Richmond.

The body was to lie in state at the Richmond City Hall this afternoon where a memorial service was planned.

The funeral service is scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow at Holy Family Church.

Mitrione was kidnapped by Uruguayan guerrillas who had offered to release him and two other prisoners in exchange for the release of 150 political prisoners. The Uruguayan government refused.

Plan Test Of Building Ban Powers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board turned to the attorney general Tuesday in what could be a test of the agency's ability to enforce building bans.

The board asked the attorney general to force Cleveland to comply with a building freeze ordered last April because of the city's alleged failure to meet state pollution standards.

Cleveland has continued to issue new building and sewer permits, claiming it is in compliance with sewage regulations.

Chief George H. Eagle of the Bureau of Environmental Health said Cleveland had only partially met requirements for improvements in the city's sewage treatment facilities.

The board also issued a building ban against the city of Canton Tuesday.

The action came after Canton Mayor Stanley A. Cmich asked for an additional three to six months to consider alternatives for sludge disposal of cities.

Eagle said sludge in Canton streams was "inexcusable," but conceded the city has made "some progress" toward solving its sewage problems.

They gave the city until Dec. 8 to decide how it will dispose of its sludge and advertise for bids for construction of a facility.

Final Honors Prepared For Slain Police Expert

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—In the quiet and dignity of a military reception for a fallen hero, the body of Dan Anthony Mitrone, U.S. police advisor killed in Uruguay, was brought home today for burial.

His widow and nine children accompanied the body aboard an Air Force jet to a municipal airport here where they were met by relatives, friends and officials from Mitrone's hometown of Richmond, Ind.

A 48-man U.S. Air Force detail and a nine-man Navy unit provided an honor guard, pall bearers and color guard as Mitrone's casket, encased in a wooden box, was moved from the plane to a hearse from Richmond.

Mitrone, 50, a Navy veteran, was found slain in Montevideo Monday, 10 days after he and two other officials were kidnapped by guerrillas.

Mitrone's widow, Henrietta, wept quietly as she embraced her husband's two brothers, Dominic and Ray, and other relatives on hand when the plane landed. No family member would make any comment.

The widow and her children, ranging from four years to 26 years, stood near the honor guard as Air Force pall bearers moved the casket about 100 yards from the plane to a hearse.

Burdette Orr, member of a Richmond funeral home and the hearse driver, was a 1939 classmate of the victim when they were graduated from Morton High School at Richmond.

"He was just a tremendous person that everybody loved," said Richmond Mayor Byron Klute. "He was a dedicated police officer."

Mitrone served as police chief at Richmond for five years and left that job in 1957 to go with a federal agency. He had worked in Brazil and in Washington before taking the assignment as police advisor in Montevideo.

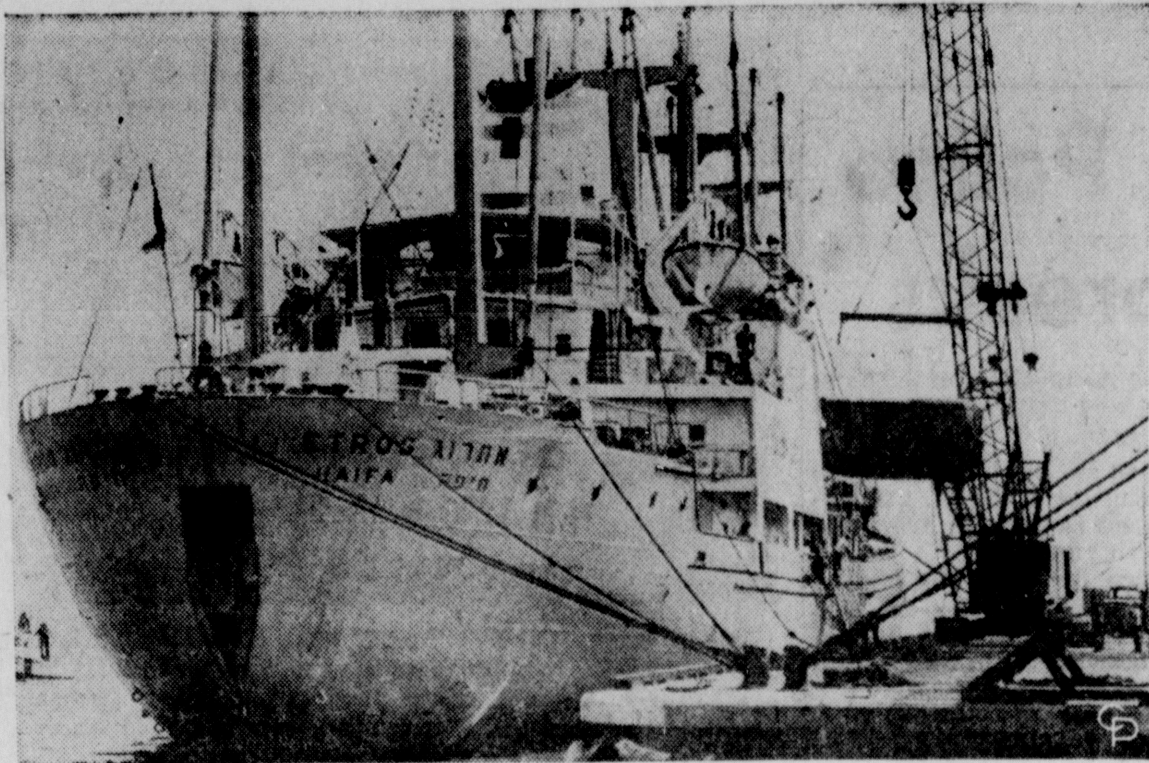

Mitrone was a native of Italy but his family brought him to the United States in 1920 when he was one year old.

British Troops, Irish Police Seek To Curb Outbreaks

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Three thousand British troops and Irish police sealed off Londonderry and its main Roman Catholic section, trying to prevent a renewal of warfare between Protestants celebrating a victory of three centuries ago and resentful Catholics.

Youths hurled stones and bottles at the troops during the night as the first of more than 6,000 militant Protestants arrived to celebrate the 281st anniversary of the defeat of King James II and his Catholic forces at the gates of the city. The troops drove off the youngsters Tuesday night with tear gas.

There was more serious violence to the south. Half a mile from the border between Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic, a bomb planted in a car killed a police constable and critically wounded another.

In Belfast, the provincial capital, a bomb wrecked a Catholic-owned barber shop and police found an arms cache on the roof of a Protestant church hall.

Last year's celebration of the lifting of the Siege of Derry touched off religious riots and street fighting that has continued off and on in Northern Ireland ever since.

Armed troops patrolled the top of Londonderry's walls today and manned barbed wire barricades, admitting to the city only the members of the Apprentice Boys of Derry, the militant Protestant organization descended from the 1689 defenders.

British army helicopters buzzed overhead while army patrols manned crossing points at the border with the Irish Republic two miles away.

Authorities banned all liquor sales.

Most Catholics were confined to their Bogside district, the scene of repeated disturbances over the past year. "Will the siege of Derry never end?"

Plan Siren Use For Smog Alert

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Riverside County supervisors have decided on sirens to impress on citizens' ears what the eyes and lungs will know already — the air is smoggy.

Supervisors voted Monday to use sirens in Riverside as a smog-alert experiment. The sirens will howl when the amount of ozone reaches .35 parts per million of air and will alert citizens to avoid strenuous activity that would increase their breathing.

Smog has reached the alert stage 16 times since June 4.

Most Catholics were confined to their Bogside district, the scene of repeated disturbances over the past year. "Will the siege of Derry ever end?"

asked the president of the Catholic-based Nationalist party, Eddie McAteer.

In an attempt to keep from inflaming the Catholics, the government banned the Apprentice Boys' traditional parade through the city. This angered the Protestants. They are in a majority in Northern Ireland but Londonderry has a 2-1 Catholic majority.

Reds Bop Mets, 8-1, With Homer Barrage

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Perez said he thought the grand slam home run he hit off Jim A. Andrew of the Mets in the second inning Tuesday night "was the longest I ever hit."

Perez recalled that he hit one out of County Stadium in Milwaukee in 1965 "but this was longer. It was a high inside pitch."

"The Reds are a tough club," said Mets manager Gil Hodges after his club was bombed 8-1 by Cincinnati, piling up three homers and 14 hits.

"They're just lucky they've escaped Tom Seaver."

Seaver is not expected to pitch in the series here because of the pitching rotation.

On Perez' home run, said to have carried 500 feet into the top deck of the new Riverfront stadium, Hodges said "I think May's was longer. It was a liner and was more toward center field."

Lee May uncorked the Reds' second blast but with no one on in the seventh inning.

"I don't care which one was the longest," said May. "I'm just glad it went out."

Perez, who had been in a slump in late July and early August, was elated with the blast.

"I feel like I'm getting my timing back and I need to push Bench a little."

Perez now has 35 home runs and 110 runs batted in. John Bench hit his 39th homer in the eighth inning with one on to boost his RBI total to 113. They are one-two in the majors.

Gary Nolan picked up his 15th win against four losses, his major league high. His shutout effort was marred when Cleon Jones homered in the ninth inning for the New Yorkers' lone run.

"It was a fast ball and I thought it was a good pitch," said Nolan. "He's simply a good hitter."

Lee Trevino Wide Awake For PGA Tilt

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Lee Trevino is back from his Mexican holiday, fully rested and with a roomful of alarm clocks set for the PGA Golf Championship.

"I won't oversleep on this one," the voluble Mexican-American said today, referring to his failure to make the starting time in the $250,000 Westchester Classic a couple of weeks ago, thus blowing a chance at a $150,000 paycheck.

"My wife's got an alarm clock. My in-laws all have alarm clocks. They're not going to let me miss this time."

Trevino, who has a 9:07 a.m. ED start, is one of the prime favorites in this 52nd national tee party of the pros along with British Open winner Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open titleholder Tony Jacklin of Britain, Masters king Bill Casper, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

A field of 135 will tee off Thursday over the 6,962-yard Southern Hills course which the pros describe respectfully as a heavyweight giant with a minimum of birdie opportunities. "There's not a makeup hole on the premises," warned Palmer.

Ben Hogan, the four-time U.S. Open winner, decided the demanding layout and Tulsa's sweltering heat were too tough for his ailing left knee. He withdrew, as did Harold Henning of South Africa, who is ill.

Trevino called "Southern Hills

"one of the toughest courses I've played—you can bet there's not a man in the field that won't have one round of at least 74."

"The fairways are about 25 steps across and they'll all bend. That makes them about 18 yards in the hitting area. The par 3 holes are all tough and the par 5, will really put pepper in your salt."

Phils Stop Astros; Bunning Sets Record

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
A tired, but happy Jim Bunning just missed completing his milestone triumph but couldn't resist watching the dramatic ending as a last-ditch Houston rally fell short, gaining the Philadelphia veteran a place in baseball history.

The 38-year-old right-hander, who captured 118 victories with Detroit of the American League, notched his 100th triumph in the National league Tuesday night in the Phils 6-5 decision over the Houston Astros. Cy Young was the only other hurler to win at least 100 games in each league.

The veteran of 15 major league seasons was coasting with a 6-1 lead, limiting the Astros to six hits, until the roof fell in the ninth.

"I said, 'oh, no not again,'" Bunning said afterward, referring to an Aug. 1 game against San Francisco when he left the game leading 5-4 in the ninth; then Willie Mays homered off reliever Dick Selma, prolonging Bunning's quest of his historic 100th triumph.

This time however, Selma came up with two outs to bail out Bunning, whiffing Jesus Alou with two Houston runners on base.

In other NL action, Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 5-4. Cincinnati bombed the New York Mets 8-1. Chicago stopped San Francisco 4-1. St. Louis nipped San Diego 11-10 and Atlanta blanked Montreal 1-0.

Bunning, increasing his mark to 9-11, struck out five and didn't walk a batter as he became the second pitcher in major league history to win 190 games in each league. Hall of Famer Young, 1890-99, won 249 American League decisions and 262 in the National.

"I had extra good control but it went bad in the ninth. I made some bad pitches," Bunning said.

In that inning, Houston's Joe Morgan opened with a homer and four singles and three runs followed. Joe Hoerner came on and issued another hit before Selma got the last out.

"Maybe I should have walked somebody to stop the rally," Bunning, the father of nine, quipped.

"When I came out, I started up the ramp, but then came back to watch the end. I always like to finish but I was tired out there in the ninth, the right-handed nine-time All-Star said.

Joe Namath And Joe Kapp Still Pro Grid Holdouts

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Al Atkinson says he'd like to talk to Joe Namath, but he doesn't know how to get in touch with the New York Jets' quarterback. Phil Iselin would also like to talk to Broadway Joe, but Iselin wants Namath to do the telephoning.

Atkinson, the Jet defensive captain, retired last week. He had some harsh things to say about Namath. Atkinson, hinting Tuesday that he may end his retirement, said of Namath: "I love Joe, whether he believes it or not. If I live to be 80, he will still be one of my closest friends."

But, he added: "It's just that over the last few years I have found it harder and harder to respect him."

"Joe knows where I am. I'm not hard to find," said Iselin.

"All he has to do is call me." And Namath! He has been seen around Manhattan, but he's not talking—at least for publication. Iselin says Namath told him he had problems. That's believed to be a synonym for more money, in this case.

Iselin says he's letting Weeb Ewbank, the Jets' coach and general manager, worry about Atkinson.

Atkinson told John Maginnis of The Associated Press Philadelphia bureau his thoughts about returning to the Jets centered around the injuries to Gerry Philbin and Mike Stromberg, other defensive stalwarts on the American Conference team.

"I do feel a certain obligation to the team," said Atkinson. "Something is working inside me. It doesn't have anything to do with what Joe does or doesn't do, but with Philbin hurt and Stromberg out, that leaves the Jets with nobody."

On the subject of holdout quarterbacks named Joe, the St. Paul, Minn., Dispatch said Tuesday it had telephoned Ewbank and was told that the Jets aren't interested in Joe Kapp, whose demanding a whopping $1.25 million from the Minnesota Vikings. He's been offered $100,000 a year for three years.

"I'm not interested in him," Ewbank said. "I can answer that question quick. No player's worth that much."

Defensive back Mike Weger came to terms with the Detroit Lions and started working out Tuesday. The Lions also have cornerback Lem Barney without a contract, but Barney's been drilling while dickering for more dough.

Ray Parson, the Lions' No. 2 draft choice from Minnesota, underwent knee ligament surgery after being injured in the exhibition loss to the Kansas City Chiefs last Saturday. Parson, an offensive tackle, will be sidelined 10-12 weeks.

And there were these other tidbits Tuesday from the pro football training camps:

—Veteran Blanton Collier, Cleveland Browns' coach, says he's quite impressed by rookie Jerry Sherk, a defensive tackle from Oklahoma State. Sherk, according to Collier, has been paying attention to tips from the coaching staff and the rookie was able to get to the opposing quarterback in the Browns' exhibition game with Los Angeles.

The Browns also reported defensive end Jeff Steinberger, injured in the Ram game, would be lost for the season. Steinberger had knee ligament surgery Tuesday.

—Roger Bird said he wanted the Oakland Raiders to trade him. Bird said Al Davis, managing general partner of the team, "will try to help relocate me." The former Kentucky star lost his starting defensive backfield job last season to rookie George Atkinson after he'd injured a shoulder.

The Raiders, incidentally, say they're continuing their policy of not announcing cuts. All the other teams do it, but not Oakland.

Only way to guess at the players the Raiders have decided to drop is to make a daily count.

Senators Upset Twins, Win 3-2

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tricky hops aren't doing Bill Rigney's ulcers any favors ... and neither are the bouncy Oakland A's.

The Washington Senators upended Rigney's suddenly stumbling Minnesota Twins 3-2 Tuesday night on Paul Casanova's bad-hop double in the 11th inning.

The loss extended the Twins' winless string to four games and cut their lead in the American League West to six lengths over the surging A's, who bounced past Cleveland 6-5 for their fourth straight victory to grab the runner-up spot.

California bowed to Baltimore 7-0 and dropped to third place, one-half game behind Oakland, while the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7-1 and Detroit nipped Milwaukee 2-1 in other AL action. The Kansas City-Boston game was rained out.

The Senators broke a 2-2 deadlock in the 11th when Ed Brinkman singled and raced home as Casanova's drive to left skipped over Rick Renick's head and rolled to the fence.

Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew slammed his 36th homer—and third in as many games—with one on in the first inning. The Senators tied it in the eighth on Aurelio Rodriguez' two-run wallop which thwarted Jim Perry's bid to become the first 18-game winner in the majors.

The A's, who started the Twins' skid by taking the last three of a four-game set at Minnesota last weekend, struck for four runs in the fifth inning to wipe out a 4-2 Cleveland lead and then held off the Indians behind the solid relief pitching of Jim Roland.

"All of a sudden, our confidence has become a big factor," said Frank Fernandez, who droyed in two Oakland runs with singles in the fourth and fifth.

"A week ago, that wasn't true."

Paul Blair and Brooks Robinson slammed two-run homers off Andy Messersmith in the first inning and Frank Robinson, making his first start in a week, also homered as the Orioles protected their 9½-game bulge in the AL East.

Greg Cook Walks Out On Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Greg Cook, Cincinnati Bengal quarterback, did not appear for workouts Tuesday at the National Football League team's camp here and Paul Brown, coach and general manager, said he had no idea where Cook was.

Brown said Cook departed from the camp at Wilmington College after workouts Monday.

"When you walk out of camp it isn't easy to understand," said Brown of Cook.

Cook, complaining of throwing arm trouble, did not play Saturday night in the Bengals' opening exhibition game against the Washington Redskins.

Cook was named offensive rookie of the year in the American Football League in 1969.

Brown ordered the team to report to Wilmington Sunday after the veterans returned from a dispute over contracts with the league. They went into the game with only four days practice.

Sam Wyche and rookie Dave Lewis took over the quarterbacking chores in Tuesday's workouts.

Brown said the Bengals planned to claim several players who had been placed on waivers Tuesday but said he would not announce the names until today.

Brown said he was interested in new quarterbacks.

single and Deron Johnson added a pair of run-scoring doubles.

Billy Grabarkewitz clubbed a three-run homer and Claude Osteen, 12-10, won his first game in six weeks with relief help, as the Dodgers stopped the Pirates, who remained 2½ games ahead of the Mets in the tight East Division scramble.

Tony Perez crashed a tape-measure 500-foot grand slam homer and Gary Nolan scattered seven hits in winning his eighth straight triumph.

Perez' homer was his 35th and the longest hit in Cincinnati's month-old Riverfront Stadium. It came off Mets' loser Jim McAndrew, 6-11, and was enough for Nolan, 15-4, who struck out six. He lost his shut-out in the ninth on Cleon Jones' homer.

John Bench, the majors' leader in homers, rapped his 39th and Lee May had his 24th for the Reds, runaway leaders in the West.

Randy Hundley's two-out single snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning, helping the Cubs edge to within 4½ games of the Pirates. Ferguson Jenkins, 14-13, twirled a three-hitter for Chicago, holding the Giants hitless after the third inning.

Ron Santo cracked a two-run homer in the eighth for the Cubs while Joe Pepitone slammed a pair of doubles.

A grand slam homer by Carl Taylor, his first ever "even in the Little Leagues," capped a five-run ninth inning Cardinal explosion as St. Louis ran its hot string to 11 victories in 13 games.

Taylor, a pinch hitter for winning reliever Harry Parker, 1-0, climaxed a Cardinal uprising which saw them come from an 8-1 deficit, scoring 10 of their 11 runs in the final three innings.

Post 25 Beats Kent For 2nd Tourney Win

The state title is a little closer to the Washington C. H. Post 25 camp today after it downed Kent, 2-0, Tuesday to remain unbeaten in its bid for all the marbles in the Ohio American Legion State tournament at Ashland.

Big Steve Bowers, 8-3, went to the mound for Washington and really got the job done. He gave up two singles, walked three and sent 13 Kent swingers back to the bench with undented wood.

Kent failed to get a runner to third base in the game as Bowers took control from the outset and turned in his second consecutive sterling mound performance.

May was on the hill for the Kent nine scattering nine hits, walking three and fanning four.

IT was nip and tuck for both squads for the first five innings as neither could get a runner across the plate. Post 25 loaded the sacks in the fourth inning but May pitched out of the jam to keep the game scoreless.

Steve Bihl grounded out to open the sixth but Mike Mitchell followed with a walk. Mitchell was quickly erased when May picked him off first.

Bowers got his pitch and rapped a long triple to give the Washington nine a runner with two outs. Jeff Blake hopped onto a May pitch and smashed it for two bases to score Bowers and put Post 25 out in front.

Ty Ankrom slashed a single and Blake scampered home with the second marker and the ballgame.

Kent failed to touch Bowers for the remainder of the fray and Washington's title hopes loomed brighter.

Mitchell led the plate barrage for Post 25 with two doubles. Billy Thomas caught and contributed a double to the winning cause while Randy Alkire played second and chipped in with a single.

KENT's left fielder, Embacher, had two singles to account for both safeties.

Washington will see action at 1 p.m. today meeting the Miamisburg Club who have the best record in the tournament, 52-13.

Washington, Sandusky, Lancaster and Miamisburg remain unbeaten in the double elimination tournament.

—Roger Bird said he wanted the Oakland Raiders to trade him. Bird said Al Davis, managing general partner of the team, "will try to help relocate me."

The former Kentucky star lost his starting defensive backfield job last season to rookie George Atkinson after he'd injured a shoulder.

The Raiders, incidentally, say they're continuing their policy of not announcing cuts. All the other teams do it, but not Oakland.

Only way to guess at the players the Raiders have decided to drop is to make a daily count.

Lee Trevino Wide Awake For PGA Tilt

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Lee Trevino is back from his Mexican holiday, fully rested and with a roomful of alarm clocks set for the PGA Golf Championship.

"I won't oversleep on this one," the voluble Mexican-American said today, referring to his failure to make the starting time in the $250,000 Westchester Classic a couple of weeks ago, thus blowing a chance at a $150,000 paycheck.

"My wife's got an alarm clock. My in-laws all have alarm clocks. They're not going to let me miss this time."

Trevino, who has a 9:07 a.m. ED start, is one of the prime favorites in this 52nd national tee party of the pros along with British Open winner Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open titleholder Tony Jacklin of Britain, Masters king Bill Casper, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

A field of 135 will tee off Thursday over the 6,962-yard Southern Hills course which the pros describe respectfully as a heavyweight giant with a minimum of birdie opportunities.

"There's not a makeup hole on the premises," warned Palmer.

Ben Hogan, the four-time U.S. Open winner, decided the demanding layout and Tulsa's sweltering heat were too tough for his ailing left knee. He withdrew, as did Harold Henning of South Africa, who is ill.

Trevino called "Southern Hills

"one of the toughest courses I've played—you can bet there's not a man in the field that won't have one round of at least 74."

"The fairways are about 25 steps across and they'll all bend. That makes them about 18 yards in the hitting area. The par 3 holes are all tough and the par 5, will really put pepper in your salt."

Phils Stop Astros; Bunning Sets Record

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

A tired, but happy Jim Bunning just missed completing his milestone triumph but couldn't resist watching the dramatic ending as a last-ditch Houston rally fell short, gaining the Philadelphia veteran a place in baseball history.

The 38-year-old right-hander, who captured 118 victories with Detroit of the American League, notched his 100th triumph in the National League Tuesday night in the Phils 6-5 decision over the Houston Astros. Cy Young was the only other hurler to win at least 100 games in each league.

The veteran of 15 major league seasons was coasting with a 6-1 lead, limiting the Astros to six hits, until the roof fell in the ninth.

"I said, 'oh, no not again,'" Bunning said afterward, referring to an Aug. 1 game against San Francisco when he left the game leading 5-4 in the ninth; then Willie Mays homered off reliever Dick Selma, prolonging Bunning's quest of his historic 100th triumph.

This time however, Selma came up with two outs to bail out Bunning, whiffing Jesus Alou with two Houston runners on base.

In other NL action, Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 5-4, Cincinnati bombed the New York Mets 8-1, Chicago stopped San Francisco 4-1, St. Louis nipped San Diego 11-0 and Atlanta blanked Montreal 1-0.

Bunning, increasing his mark to 9-11, struck out five and didn't walk a batter as he became the second pitcher in major league history to win 100 games in each league. Hall of Famer Young, 1890-99, won 249 American League decisions and 262 in the National.

"I had extra good control but it went bad in the ninth. I made some bad pitches," Bunning said.

In that inning, Houston's Joe Morgan opened with a homer and four singles and three runs followed. Joe Hoerner came on and issued another hit before Selma got the last out.

"Maybe I should have walked somebody to stop the rally," Bunning, the father of nine, quipped.

"When I came out, I started up the ramp, but then came back to watch the end. I always like to finish but I was tired out there in the ninth, the right-handed nine-time All-Star said. Don Money drove in three Phils' runs with a double and single and Deron Johnson added a pair of run-scoring doubles.

Billy Grabarkewitz clubbed a three-run homer and Claude Osteen, 12-10, won his first game in six weeks with relief help, as the Dodgers stopped the Pirates, who remained 2½ games ahead of the Mets in the tight East Division scramble.

Tony Perez crashed a tape-measure 500-foot grand slam homer and Gary Nolan scattered seven hits in winning his eighth straight triumph.

Perez' homer was his 35th and the longest hit in Cincinnati's month-old Riverfront Stadium. It came off Mets' loser Jim McAndrew, 6-11, and was enough for Nolan, 15-4, who struck out six. He lost his shutout in the ninth on Cleon Jones' homer.

John Bench, the majors' leader in homers, rapped his 39th and Lee May had his 24th for the Reds, runaway leaders in the West.

Randy Hundley's two-out single snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning, helping the Cubs edge to within 4½ games of the Pirates.

Ferguson Jenkins, 14-13, twirled a three-hitter for Chicago, holding the Giants hitless after the third inning.

Ron Santo cracked a two-run homer in the eighth for the Cubs while Joe Pepitone slammed a pair of doubles.

A grand slam homer by Carl Taylor, his first ever "even in the Little Leagues," capped a five-run ninth inning Cardinal explosion as St. Louis ran its hot string to 11 victories in 13 games.

Taylor, a pinch hitter for winning reliever Harry Parker, 1-0, climaxed a Cardinal uprising which saw them come from an 8-1 deficit, scoring 10 of their 11 runs in the final three innings.

Post 25 Beats Kent For 2nd Tourney Win

The state title is a little closer to the Washington C. H. Post 25 camp today after it downed Kent, 2-0. Tuesday to remain unbeaten in its bid for all the marbles in the Ohio American Legion State tournament at Ashland.

Big Steve Bowers, 8-3, went to the mound for Washington and really got the job done. He gave up two singles, walked three and sent 13 Kent swingers back to the bench with undented wood.

Kent failed to get a runner to third base in the game as Bowers took control from the outset and turned in his second consecutive sterling mound performance.

May was on the hill for the Kent nine scattering nine hits, walking three and fanning four.

IT was nip and tuck for both squads for the first five innings as neither could get a runner across the plate. Post 25 loaded the sacks in the fourth inning but May pitched out of the jam to keep the game scoreless.

Steve Bihl grounded out to open the sixth but Mike Mitchell followed with a walk. Mitchell was quickly erased when May picked him off first.

Bowers got his pitch and rapped a long triple to give the Washington nine a runner with two outs. Jeff Blake hopped onto a May pitch and smashed it for two bases to score Bowers and put Post 25 out in front.

Ty Ankrom slashed a single and Blake scampered home with the second marker and the ballgame.

Kent failed to touch Bowers for the remainder of the fray and Washington's title hopes loomed brighter.

Mitchell led the plate barrage for Post 25 with two doubles. Billy Thomas caught and contributed a double to the winning cause while Randy Alkire played second and chipped in with a single.

KENT'S left fielder, Embacher, had two singles to account for both safeties.

Washington will see action at 1 p.m. today meeting the Miamisburg Club who have the best record in the tournament, 52-13.

Washington, Sandusky, Lancaster and Miamisburg remain unbeaten in the double elimination tournament.

Senators Upset Twins, Win 3-2

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tricky pups aren't doing Bill Rigney's ulcers any favors 7-1 and neither are the bouncy Oakland A's.

The Washington Senators upended Rigney's suddenly stumbling Minnesota Twins 3-2 Tuesday night on Paul Casanova's bad-hop double in the 11th inning.

The loss extended the Twins' winless string to four games and cut their lead in the American League West to six lengths over the surging A's, who bounced past Cleveland 6-5 for their fourth straight victory to grab the runner-up spot.

California bowed to Baltimore 7-0 and dropped to third place, one-half game behind Oakland, while the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7-1 and Detroit nipped Milwaukee 2-1 in other AL action. The Kansas City-Boston game was rained out.

The Senators broke a 2-2 deadlock in the 11th when Ed Brinkman singled and raced home as Casanova's drive to left skipped over Rick Renick's head and rolled to the fence.

Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew slammed his 36th homer—and third in as many games—with one on in the first inning. The Senators tied it in the eighth on Aurelio Rodriguez' two-run wallop which thwarted Jim Perry's bid to become the first 18-game winner in the majors.

The A's, who started the Twins' skid by taking the last three of a four-game set at Minnesota last weekend, struck for four runs in the fifth inning to wipe out a 4-2 Cleveland lead and then held off the Indians behind the solid relief pitching of Jim Roland.

"All of a sudden, our confidence has become a big factor," said Frank Fernandez, who drove in four Oakland runs with singles in the fourth and fifth.

"A week ago, that wasn't true."

Paul Blair and Brooks Robinson slammed two-run homers off Andy Messersmith in the first inning and Frank Robinson, making his first start in a week, also homered as the Orioles protected their 9½-game bulge in the AL East.

Mike Cuellar scattered four

California hits for his 16th victory of the season and sixth in succession against the Angels over the last two years.

The second place Yanks hit four homers for the first time this season, Jake Gibbs poling a pair and Jim Lyttle and pitcher Mel Stottlemyre one apiece, to beat the White Sox.

Don Wert's two-out single in the sixth delivered the winning run for the Tigers, who got strong pitching from Mike Kilkeny and Tom Timmerman.

Greg Cook Walks Out On Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Greg Cook, Cincinnati Bengal quarterback, did not appear for workouts Tuesday at the National Football League team's camp here and Paul Brown, coach and general manager, said he had no idea where Cook was.

Brown said Cook departed from the camp at Wilmington College after workouts Monday.

"When you walk out of camp it isn't easy to understand," said Brown of Cook.

Cook, complaining of throwing arm trouble, did not play Saturday night in the Bengals' opening exhibition game against the Washington Redskins.

Cook was named offensive rookie of the year in the American Football League in 1969.

Brown ordered the team to report to Wilmington Sunday after the veterans returned from a dispute over contracts with the league. They went into the game with only four days practice.

Sam Wyche and rookie Dave Lewis took over the quarterbacking chores in Tuesday's workouts.

Brown said the Bengals planned to claim several players who had been placed on waivers Tuesday but said he would not announce the names until today.

Brown said he was interested in new quarterbacks.

Denver Broncos Drop Bryant From Team

DENVER, Ohio (AP) — The Denver Broncos of the National Football League dropped Cleveland's Bryant, former Ohio University star, from its roster Tuesday.

Bryant, of Canton, Ohio, was the Broncos' 11th draft choice. As a quarterback for the Mid-American Conference team, he set or matched 28 offensive records and collected 4,956 yards in nearly three seasons before hurting a knee.

Bowers got his pitch and

Oakland Trips Cleveland, Eyes Pennant

OAKLAND (AP) — Pennant fever is raging amidst the Oakland Athletics.

The A's out-dynamited the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night, giving them their fourth straight victory and moving them into second place, six games behind the Minnesota Twins.

"It's still an uphill battle," A's team captain Sal Bando admitted. "But now I think most of our players feel we can catch the Twins."

The Indians and A's play again tonight with the A's Rollie Fingers, 5-9, up against Steve Hargan, 6-2.

The A's trailed 4-2 in Tuesday night's action but battled back with a four-run fifth inning that pulled out the victory. Catcher Frank Fernandez, who drove in four runs in the game, singled to drive in the final two in the rally.

A's Manager John McNamara defended a move he made in the eighth inning of Tuesday night's game that caused some controversy.

With two out and runners on first and third, and Reggie Jackson scheduled to bat, Cleveland manager Alvin Dark called in left-handed pitcher Rick Austin to pitch.

McNamara sent rookie Bobby Brooks up to hit for Jackson. Brooks struck out to end the inning.

McNamara explained: "We're scratching to get runs any way we can. Jackson hasn't been hitting left handers, so I sent up Brooks."

Chiefs Top Rochester

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Syracuse beat Rochester 5-2 Tuesday night to stretch its International League lead to 10 games ahead of the Red Wings. The Louisville Colonels took the opener 5-4 and then the Tide-water Tides came back to take a 2-1 decision in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

Winnipeg beat the Toledo Mudhens 8-5, and 3-2, exploding in the sixth inning of the first game for four runs, when Larry Wallin walked, moved to third on Angel Hermoso's pinch hit single, and then Wallin scored on Jim Williams' single. Another run scored on a sacrifice fly, and two more runs scored on a wild pitch and a single.

Hal Breeden and Jim Breazeale stroked two-run homers to help the Richmond Braves to a 7-1 decision over the Columbus Jets. The Braves defense picked up five double plays.

Bob Kinsey Leader In Golf Tournament

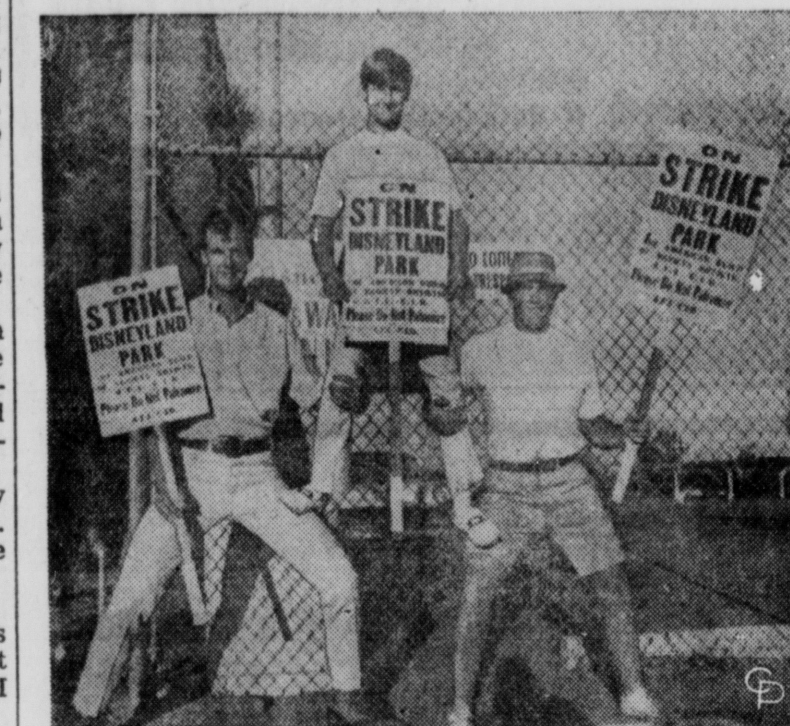

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Bob Kinsey of East Liverpool bounced back from a disastrous eighth on the ninth hole to take the first round lead in the Ohio Juniors Golf Tournament with a two-over-par 73.

Playing in the 16-18 year old division at Byrnick Golf Club, Kinsey had a one-stroke lead over four other players going into today's final 18-hole round.

Bluegrass Crop

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Clark County originally was one of the 10 Bluegrass counties in Kentucky which produced more than 20 per cent of America's hemp in the late 1880's.

Hemp, the same plant which produces marijuana, prized for its hallucinogenic effects by many of today's younger generation, was the state's largest cash crop until 1915, when the market was lost to imported, tariff-free jute. Large amounts of the plant still grow wild in the Bluegrass.

Leavittsburg was eliminated by losing its second game. Earlier Tuesday, Parma eliminated Ashley, 3-2, in 10 innings, Bridgeport eliminated East Liverpool, 4-2, and defending champion Cincinnati ousted Ottawa, 5-3.

1,100 farmers last year who got at least that.

If enforced strictly so that corporation farms could not split up and get several payments instead of one, it would put a severe curb on the Boswell-type operations. But trimming $58 million from a program costing $3.5 billion a year and involving 2.5 million farmers is not a deep cut.

Rather, as some congressional farm leaders privately see it, the $55,000 limitation would be a neat bit of cosmetics to uplift the sagging image of U.S. agriculture.

One key reason involves U.S. agriculture's fantastic production. This is so huge that even with one cropland acre out of five producing for the export market, almost as much must be kept idle to prevent a glut.

Another reason is the pattern of government controls and subsidies to agriculture itself, a multi-hued skein of programs going back 37 years to the early New Deal days.

Most of today's farmers have never operated without some kind of government program. It has been built into their seasons, their credit, their production and their way of life.

Secretary Hardin and others in the administration have noted this. To remove government aid once from farming would spell bankruptcy for farmers and perhaps economic disaster for the nation, they say.

About one-fourth of the nation's net farm income last year came through direct government payments—roughly $3.8 billion—with the lion's share of $3.3 billion paid to producers of the three commodities now facing payment limitations.

Removal of this money, farm block spokesmen say, would force consumers to make up the difference through higher market prices or bankrupt more of the nation's three million farms.

But the costs of paying farmers not to farm have not been accepted by the public as being necessary to the well-being of the country.

Farm program costs are spiraling. Between 1933 and 1960 the total federal expenditure was less than $20 billion under specific programs aimed at stabilization of farm income through a myriad of devices, including price supports, payments, soil bank and income supplements.

In the 10 years since, costs for these direct programs have been about $28 billion. Many critics point out that the big farmers seem to be getting the largest share. But the reason is fairly simple: current programs are keyed literally to renting land out of production. Therefore, the farmer with the largest acreage or production potential, gets the most money.

The government classifies as commercial only those farms that sell $10,000 or more a year in products. These represent less than one-third of the nation's three million farms.

Guard Chief In Trouble

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Retired Maj. Gen. James F. Cantwell, president of the National Guard Association of the United States and former head of the New Jersey National Guard, has been named in three two-count indictments charging him with using three public employees for work on his home.

Cantwell, 62, is scheduled to be arraigned Thursday on the indictments, which were handed down Tuesday by a Mercer County grand jury.

The indictments allege that Cantwell used three warrant officers on three occasions for improvements at his Ewing Township home near Trenton. One count of each indictment alleges illegal use of public employees, which is a high misdemeanor punishable by up to seven years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The other count in each indictment charges misconduct in office, a misdemeanor punishable by up to three years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

President Signs Postal Reform Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed the postal reform bill today. He said the task of overhauling the Post Office was accomplished only through bipartisan support that "showed the system at its best."

"There is no Republican way or Democratic way to deliver the mail," Nixon said at signing ceremonies in the office of Postmaster General Winton M. Blount. "There's only the right way, and that's what this occasion is all about."

Flanked by six of his predecessors, Blount presented Nixon with a replica of the system's new symbol: a streamlined bald eagle. It replaces the horse back rider which has symbolized the post office since 1837.

The law removed the postmaster general from the President's Cabinet and ostensibly takes the Post Office out of politics.

Blount has declined to say what his plans are when the new postal system becomes fully implemented a year from now. The comprehensive overhaul of the postal system, approved by Congress last week, is designed to cut costs and improve service by infusing the mails with modern management techniques.

Postal officials see the reform as a welcome end to the problems of inefficiency, political patronage and outmoded procedures that several times in the past few years came close to causing a total breakdown.

Under the plan, the Post Office becomes a corporate-like, independent agency with the sole task of providing service to the American public—eventually on a break-even basis.

Congress' 181-year-old stranglehold on postage rates, postal salaries and spending for buildings and equipment gives way to internal ratesetting, collective bargaining between management and unions and capital financing through sale of bonds.

Although costs to taxpayers through budget deficits are expected to go down as the new system takes hold, costs to the mailing public may go up more than anticipated.

Blount revealed the price of a letter stamp, tentatively scheduled by postal officials for an increase from six to eight cents early next year, may soon thereafter go even higher.

Two months ago, Blount had predicted an eight-cent stamp would carry the new postal system through the next few years.

Social Security Checks 'Found'

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A mail sack full of 2,200 Social Security checks lost last week has turned up finally, but no one knows where it was lost. The checks, totaling $191,400, were supposed to be delivered to their owners Monday, Aug. 3, but were not received at the Independence Post Office.

The U.S. Treasury Department wrote a new batch of checks and they were delivered. Then the first sack was found and the checks sent back to Washington.

Although the new postal system does not become fully operative for one year, its nine-member, presidentially appointed board of governors may hike postage rates by one-third to help cover costs of pay raises for rank-and-file workers.

After that, rate increases will be decided upon by a five-member rate commission, at the request of the board of governors.

Blount indicated upward-moving costs may prompt the governors to seek a second round of rate increases when the transitional period ends a year from now.

In addition to interim authority to raise first-class postage by one-third, the postal reform legislation gives the board of governors power to make similar increases in second- and third-class rates.

Rates for fourth-class parcel post are scheduled to go up an average of 15 per cent Nov. 14 and rates for mailing catalogues go up 6 per cent.

Blount has said he hopes the interim rate increases will reduce the $2.6 billion budget deficit anticipated in the current fiscal year to between $1 billion and $1.5 billion.

Rams Gunboat

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Margaret Mejia rammed a Navy gunboat with her car.

Mrs. Mejia, 58, lost control of the car Monday and ran over a dockside curb. Navy officials said. The auto's front wheels landed on the bow of the USS Tacoma and had to be lifted off by a crane. Mrs. Mejia escaped injury.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A mail sack full of 2,200 Social Security checks lost last week has turned up finally, but no one knows where it was lost. The checks, totaling $191,400, were supposed to be delivered to their owners Monday, Aug. 3, but were not received at the Independence Post Office.

The U.S. Treasury Department wrote a new batch of checks and they were delivered. Then the first sack was found and the checks sent back to Washington.

Although the new postal system does not become fully operative for one year, its nine-member, presidentially appointed board of governors may hike postage rates by one-third to help cover costs of pay raises for rank-and-file workers.

After that, rate increases will be decided upon by a five-member rate commission, at the request of the board of governors.

Blount indicated upward-moving costs may prompt the governors to seek a second round of rate increases when the transitional period ends a year from now.

In addition to interim authority to raise first-class postage by one-third, the postal reform legislation gives the board of governors power to make similar increases in second- and third-class rates.

Rates for fourth-class parcel post are scheduled to go up an average of 15 per cent Nov. 14 and rates for mailing catalogues go up 6 per cent.

Blount has said he hopes the interim rate increases will reduce the $2.6 billion budget deficit anticipated in the current fiscal year to between $1 billion and $1.5 billion.

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — Margaret Mejia rammed a Navy gunboat with her car.

Mrs. Mejia, 58, lost control of the car Monday and ran over a dockside curb, Navy officials said. The auto's front wheels landed on the bow of the USS Tacoma and had to be lifted off by a crane. Mrs. Mejia escaped injury.
